Council battles heat up

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

The 14 City Council candidates and one write-in challenger apparently will continue battling for the seven open council seats right up until the moment the polls close next Tuesday night.

In an effort to show the campaign is not over yet, one candidate John Ryznar has released information he has obtained through the Freedom of Information Act that states a "certificate of occupancy was not issued for the home at 36540 Romulus Ave."

The home happens to be that of candidate Deborah Romak and her husband, Theodore.

The letter from Building, Safety and Engineering Director David Paul stated however "the homeowner has applied for a city certification inspection, which will result in issuance of a certificate of occupancy."

A check with Romak on Tuesday revealed she bought the 102-year-old home 10 years ago and apparently some papers were not finalized. A recent check, she said revealed she needs to install a handrail outside her home and has 90 days to complete that effort.

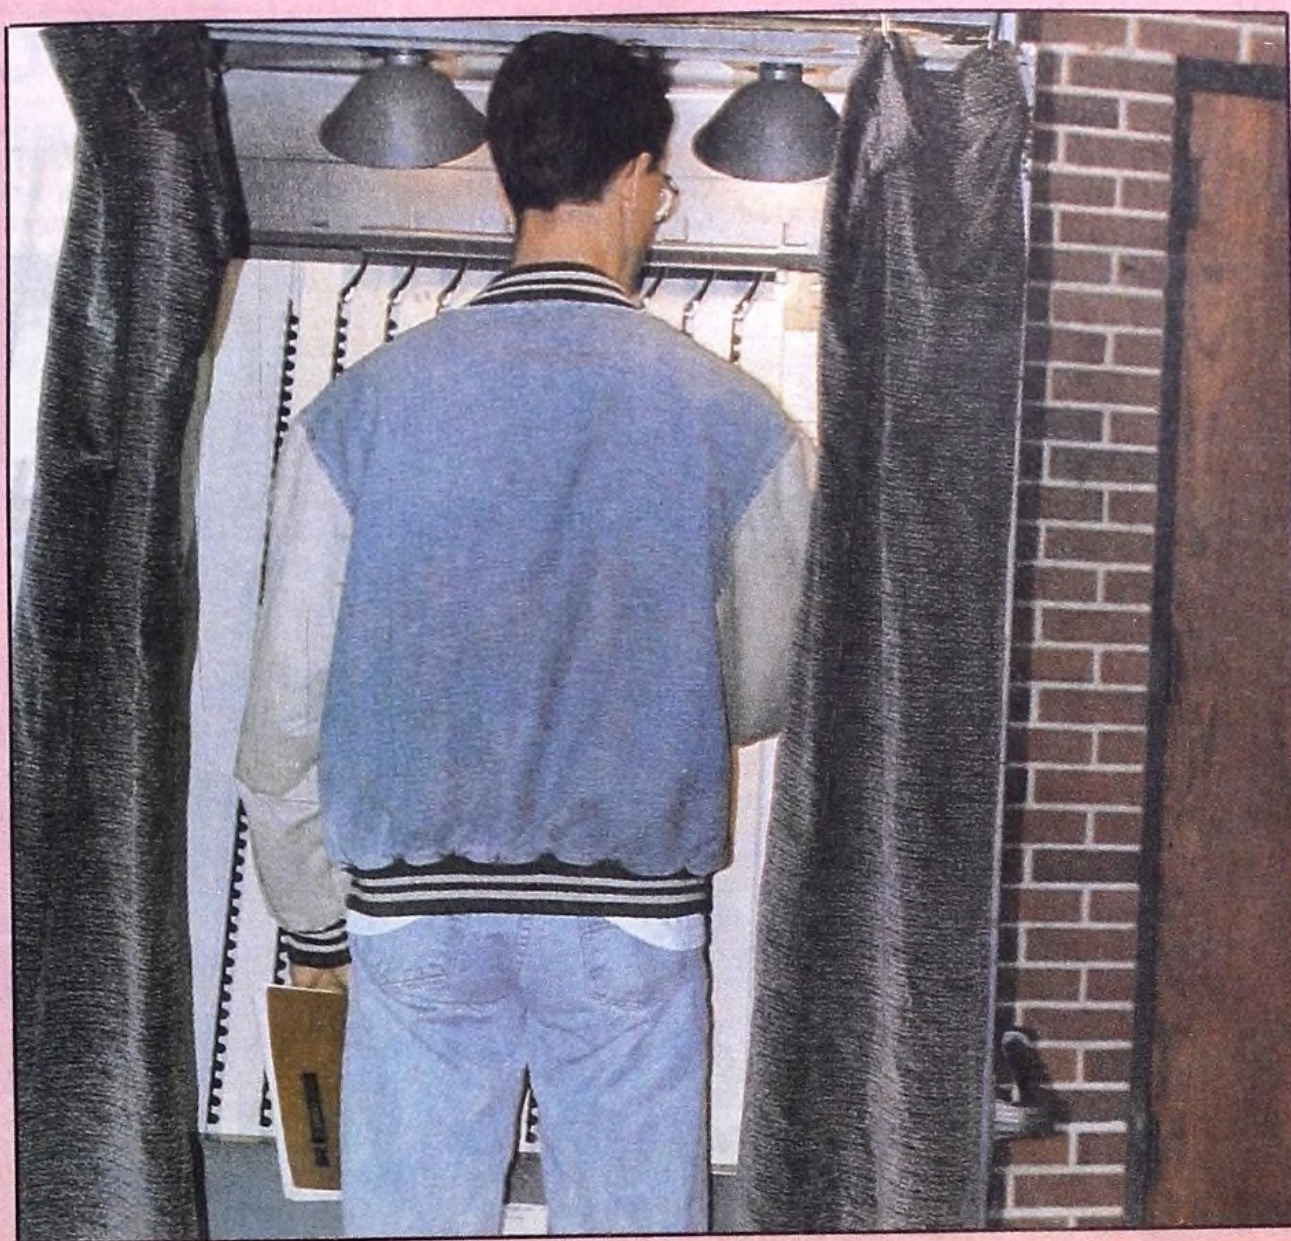

Romak said "I'd like to thank Mr. Ryznar for bringing it to my attention."

The city's letter sent to Ryznar from Paul was dated Oct. 25, 1995.

The only reason, the certificate of occupancy happens to be an issue in this campaign, is that two fellow Romulus Environmentalists Caring About People (RECAP) pressed a similar issue for months against incumbent Councilman Jimmie Raspberry. Romak is the spokesperson for the RECAP group.

In another unrelated matter, write-in candidate Rob McLachlan filed a complaint

Veteran teacher's sex charges readied for major trial soon

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

A veteran Romulus High School mathematics teacher was openly accused last Wednesday in the 34th District Court of videotaping a naked 16-year-old male student several years ago in his home.

As a result of the testimony of the now 19-year-old Romulus High graduate, a younger student and a caseworker, child abuse and sexually abusive activity charges pressed against William Frederick Raeck Jr. were remanded to Recorders Court by 34th District Court Judge Tina Brooks Green.

Raeck was charged with three violations involving the graduate (who was about 16-years old when the alleged offenses occurred) and a single child abuse charge pressed by a 13-year-old boy student.

One alleged victim, now 19, claims that Raeck four or five times videotaped or took color still photos of him lying naked on an air mattress between the dates of March 1, 1992 and Dec. 31, 1993.

The alleged victim claims that the video incidents began one day in 1993, when he was helping Raeck remodel his bathroom.

After some heavy work, the graduate said, he and Raeck laid down on an air mattress in another room. "He asked me to rub his shoulders since they ached from the work we did," the 19-year-old said.

He said they both then took off their shirts.

Later, he took off more clothes until I was naked and he only had his underpants on, the young man added. Sexual activity followed, according to the young man, and then Raeck took videos of him without any clothing on.

He testified about an oral sex incident that allegedly occurred outside of Romulus, when a defense attorney shouted that anything that happened outside of the court's jurisdiction had no bearing on the cases before 34th District Court Judge Tina Green.

Defense attorneys cited the fact that the young man could not list any exact dates of any of the alleged offenses and no videos or photographs were produced by the prosecution. The young man admitted he never actually saw the video in question, but stated he did see Raeck put a video cassette in the camera and saw the red light flash signifying the start of the filming process.

The alleged victim also revealed that he had borrowed Raeck's Corvette on prom night 1995.

The second complainant, a 13-year-old male student, said he used to visit Mr. Bill's Pizza shop (operated by Raeck) often when he was younger to play video games. Later he actually made pizzas at the shop.

The boy said at least one time Raeck took him into a back room, hugged him and urged him to say "I love you."

"He also gave me a French kiss," the teen testified.

Assistant Prosecutor Dan Petrella called clinical therapist and social worker Mary Jo White to testify that the youths had been significantly impacted by the experiences with Raeck. White also said that the boys could be at high risk for body self-mutilation.

One defense attorney stated she felt state statutes were rather specific in who might fall under these laws and teachers were not listed. She also said since the alleged videos were not produced it could not be proved they had any artistic value or not.

Petrella retorted "pornography is sex abuse!" Green then sent all four cases to the Recorders Court for hearing on Nov. 8.

A separate investigation by the Romulus School District into the alleged incidents also is being conducted, Assistant Superintendent Joel Carr said. None of the alleged incidents have been linked to school facilities. The youth claim they occurred at property connected to Raeck, namely his home and former business site.

Mayor's election featured Tuesday

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

It will soon be all over but the shouting late on the night of Nov. 7, as Romulus voters will determine whether incumbent Mayor Beverly McAnally or her challenger William Oakley will lead the city for the next two years.

Voters will be asked to visit their official election day precinct to cast their vote for the city's future and candidates and pundits will be anxious to see if the first contested mayor's race in about a decade brings out previously dormant city voters.

Most political watchers expect between 3,000 to 3,500 voters to cast their ballots next Tuesday and both McAnally and Oakley supporters state they feel their candidate will attract many of these coming back to the polls for the first time in years.

McAnally remains outwardly confident, but admitted to a Wayne County official she would accept all the luck that can be cast her way.

Oakley, who recently finished a door-to-door campaign, feels strongly it will be a close election, but also believes that he will upset the McAnally machine.

Both sides discussed some of the top issues last Monday morning in the office of the Romulus Roman newspaper and agreed that Metro Airport growth was a prime concern.

Oakley feels the line of communications between the city and the airport leaders needs to be strengthened and Romulus has to be given a larger share of the benefits of that growth.

McAnally feels that line of communications already is in place and the city is working to get more county property back on the city's tax rolls.

The mayor said her biggest goals for the next two years will be to increase the quality of life in Romulus and to get additional job opportunities for the city's youth.

On the issue of recreation, Oakley feels Romulus should have a community swimming pool, since it is one of the few municipalities without such a recreational structure in place.

"But first we have to show the taxpayers we are using the facilities they have already paid for (school gyms, etc),"

Mayor Beverly McAnally

Ex-Mayor William Oakley

Oakley said.

Both McAnally and Oakley agreed better teamwork on existing school gyms are needed, particularly since they are in the needed neighborhoods.

Oakley said the battle over TIFA monies and the personality conflicts between McAnally and Superintendent of Schools Dr. William Bedell have curtailed such teamwork in the past and he said he didn't know which was the biggest problem.

McAnally again claimed she saw no massive walls between her administration and the school district, citing that her Assistant Finance Director Debra Hoffman, currently serves as school board president.

Neither candidate felt they would be the major healing agent for city residents, once

Christmas wish program begins

By MARGO DEWEY
MCN News Editor

The season of kindness and generosity is fast approaching, and once again the Michigan Community Newspapers (MCN) is organizing the "Christmas Wishes Will Come True" project for residents in Western Wayne County.

Last year more than 100 families received Christmas gifts from MCN courtesy of the newspapers, area businesses, community organizations and residents.

From bicycles to clothes to dinner with all the trimmings, hundreds of gifts were provided to those less fortunate in 1994.

Area families in need are encouraged to write to MCN officials with their Christmas requests for themselves or for another needy family.

Those participating are requested to include an address and work/home phone numbers in order for MCN officials to contact the families to find out more details about the request.

One of the many letters received last year included: "Hi. My name is Lorraine. I'm a single mother of five children. I am a low income family on ADC. I have three girls and two boys. Whatever you can do for my family this Christmas will be greatly appreciated."

Letters can be addressed to: MCN "Christmas Wishes" program, attention: Editorial Staff, 35540 Michigan Ave., Wayne, Mich. 48184.

The deadline for letters to be sent to the MCN office is Nov. 24.

All letters will be reviewed by the MCN staff who will select those that will be chosen for the program.

For more information contact Joan Dyer or Margo Dewey at 313-729-4000.

Road upgrades 'rainy day fund' suggested for budget

By HEATHER NEEDHAM
MCN Staff Writer

After numerous hearings and hours of testimony, the Wayne County Commission voted recently to only make select, minor changes in the budget originally proposed.

The process only took a few hours, which left some commissioners concerned that the decisions weren't well thought out, said 11th District Commissioner Bruce Patterson.

He said he could not tell whether the process was too quick because he is a first-term commissioner.

"I didn't feel as though I was rushed," he said. Patterson said he had spent a great deal of time taking testimony. "I felt there had been opportunity for input."

With a final budget of over $1.6 billion, some commissioners felt that deliberations should have taken more than a few hours, Patterson said. Only a relatively few dollar adjustments were made to the entire budget.

"I sat through many hours of testimony and conducted the examination of witness after witness, from various offices, divisions and departments..." Patterson said, adding "...and therefore I had a lot of information with which to make recommendations for adjustment and decisions on the final product."

Commissioner Bill O'Neil agreed, saying, "There is no more important work for commissioners to engage in than the budget process. Instead, the commissioners who voted to adopt the budget seemed to just want to get it over with."

A new addition to the proposed budget is Patterson's "Rainy Day Fund," which would save money generated from fast-growing communities such as Canton Township and Van Buren Township for a "rainy day."

The tax base in Patterson's 11th District (includes Canton Township, Van Buren Township, Sumpter Township, Huron Township and the cities of Wayne, Belleville and Romulus) has increased dramatically. Wayne County's total tax base increase for 1995-95 was $20 million, with a majority coming from the 11th District, Patterson said. The proposal passed unanimously.

"Everyone thought it was a great idea," he said.

Now the county's budget director has to come up with a plan to put the proposal into place.

Also on the agenda for the county is improvement for non-paved roads. A majority of the non-paved roads in the county are in the 11th District, and some tentative plans to improve them are in the works.

Using a "chip and tar" and "chip and seal" method, some dirt roads can get overhauled using non-concrete road building materials.

Some roads in the state have been upgraded using recycled tires, Patterson said. This method shows an improvement over paved roads, but does not have the same life expectancy.

Hannan Road in Romulus has been overhauled with this method. It is now deteriorating after its improvement six or seven years ago, but in the long run is a money-saving venture, he said.

People who drive cars on dirt roads regularly spend approximately $150 per year on car maintenance, Patterson said.

Proposed bill would allow businesses to conduct clean-ups

An environmental bill merging the private sector and the government was introduced in the state senate, which would allow businesses to conduct their own clean-ups.

Senate Bill 728 encourages Michigan industry and businesses to conduct their own environmental audits and clean-ups on a more frequent basis, by providing them with privilege over the information they collect and also providing carefully structured immunity for those businesses who voluntarily enact their own clean-up process in a timely manner.

Bill sponsor Sen. Loren Bennett, (R-Canton Township) said the state will still monitor environmental standards in Michigan, as it always has.

"It is painfully obvious that the state never had and never will have the ability to police these practices everywhere at once. Government needs the help and cooperation of business if we are to have a healthier, cleaner state. This bill would go a long way toward achieving that goal."

Bennett said that if companies conduct their own testing under the current law, it is like "raising a red flag to state authorities," which might otherwise be busy elsewhere. Fearing penalties that can run so high as to put some companies out of business, the private sector often chooses not to conduct their own testing, knowing it could take authorities years to check on them.

"Penalties for non-compliance will be very, very stiff," Bennett said. "Under the legislation I am proposing, if a company has knowledge of contamination and chooses not to act, it will now be viewed as wanton and willful misconduct. On the other hand, they will no longer be punished for trying to do the right thing, which is the crazy way the system tends to operate now."

Attention bakers Christmas contest launches Nov. 20

Christmas cookies are among the most memorable parts of "Christmas Past."

Along with memories of Christmas trees, turkey dinners and special gifts are the recollections of special baked treats made by mothers, grandmothers and aunts -- star-shaped cookies; rich, chocolate-frosted brownies, ever-popular chocolate chip treats, miniature fruit-filled tarts and a variety of recipes brought from the Old Country.

The holiday baking season is just around the corner, and it's time for good cooks and bakers to bring out their favorite recipes for Thanksgiving and Christmas get-togethers.

This year, Michigan Community Newspapers is sponsoring a Christmas Cookie contest during the week of Nov. 20, just before the Thanksgiving holidays.

We are inviting bakers from our six communities to submit a recipe for their favorite holiday cookies, along with a sample (approximately a dozen) for the judging. Our panel of cookie gourmets will evaluate the recipes, sample the entries and award three prizes to the winners.

The first prize will be $100 worth of cook ware and baking accessories and dinner for two. Second- and third-prize winners will each receive dinner for two.

Clearly label the cookies (attach a tag or paper) with your name, address and phone number and the name of the cookies. Also, secure the recipe to the cookie container with tape or staples.

Those who submit entries may bring them to the Wayne office, 34450 Michigan Ave., west of Wayne Road, or to the Belleville office, 397 Main Street, corner of Fourth, during regular business hours, 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. between Nov. 20 and Nov. 22 or between 8:30 a.m. and noon on Nov. 24.

The final judging will be done on Nov. 24 and winners will be notified and prizes awarded. The winners will be photographed with their winning entries and the recipes will be published by Michigan Community Newspapers.

Questions about the contest may be directed to Joan Dyer-Zinner or Margo Dewey at 729-4000 during regular business hours.

Editor's note: We are also seeking nominations for the Best Cook on the Block. Send them to the listed above.

Candidates' Night

No winners, losers reported at main event

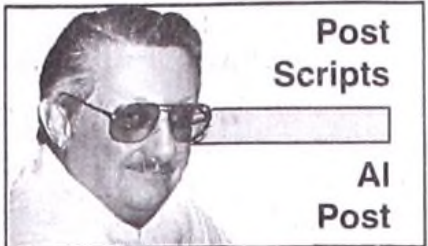

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

There were apparently no winners or losers in last Thursday's candidates' night. Unless you consider the local American Legion, sponsors of the program.

The questions and answers during the mayoral portion of the session, changed few minds, most agreed. A majority felt that the heavier questions were thrown at challenger former Mayor William Oakley. The "powder-puff" queries were tossed at Mayor Beverly McNally.

Since an admitted "hundreds of questions" were submitted, both those in attendance and others in the cable audience wondered, "Why did the questioners spend so much time on flag questions?"

The questions centered on the desecration issue spurred by the flag use outside Oakley's initial fund raiser at the Romulus Progressive Club building and the planned United

Post Scripts
Al Post

Nations Day 1996.

Council candidate John Ryzner fell victim to the first questions, when he was asked if he placed the flag "in the garbage at a first fund raiser?"

Ryzner said "no" and then admitted he placed the flag between two empty garbage trucks outside the hall.

The American Legion coordinator said, "Oh OK, you admit you desecrated the flag!"

The question was brought up several times during the night's questioning.

Later a new sense of flag questions was raised, when coordinators asked "in one word tell me what is the term used for our country's most sacred patriotic symbol."

Some irritated members of the audience mumbled, "I'll give you a hint, it begins with an 'f' and ends with a 'g'!"

The crowning blow came when the questioners asked, "Would you hang a U.N. flag on U.N. Day 1996?"

Surprisingly, several of the council candidates had the courage to say "yes."

The other question that confused voters is the one that asked the candidates' party preference. The issue was somewhat deflated when mayoral challenger William Oakley replied he was an "Independent" and incumbent Council candidate Jimmie Raspberry said he was an "Independent Democrat."

What caused the confusion is the fact that the Romulus election supposedly is a non-partisan contest.

Most questioned said they were Democrats. But none specified if they were from the Clinton-faction or the Congressional-faction.

The other major issue that seemed to separate the Candidates Night promoters and the audience was the issue of "black" and "white."

When the word "black" was raised, one of the American Legion sponsors said, "You can't use the word black-you must use the term Afro-American."

Later when Raspberry (a self-confessed colored-black-Afro-American-man of color) raised the word "black" while referring to the need of more policemen of color. He too was verbally condemned.

At that time, this writer was poked in the back by a "white" citizen, who smirked and said, "I guess we only have one option. It's back to the 'N' word."

The two participants, who received the greatest praise, were not candidates, but two young panelists from the Romulus High School government class, namely Scott Smith and Paula Rivera.

For their appearances alone, area voters said they are more than proud to raise the flag, particularly if it is an American one, and some even said they wouldn't frown even if it was the United Nations, Michigan or Romulus variety.

New SMART bus begins Romulus service

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

A brand new $75,000 SMART connector 15-passenger bus has begun servicing senior citizens and the handicapped in Romulus, the first to be added to the bus service line since the millage vote was conducted on May 23.

Acting SMART General Manager Michael Duggan attended the celebration at the Romulus Senior Center on Oct. 27 along with Mayor Beverly McNally and State Sen. Loren Bennett.

Duggan revealed that the new bus service can be used for travels to shopping areas, doctors' offices or many other points of need or entertainment.

Bus pickup points will include the Senior Center and riders' individual homes.

Citing the efforts of McNally, Duggan revealed that this is the first time residents of Romulus have had such a public transportation service available to them.

He said this is the first of about 70 new buses that will be placed in service following the three-county referendum.

Duggan also revealed that Chief Circuit Court Judge Richard Kaufman had been selected the day before to become the permanent SMART general manager, relieving him (Duggan) of one of his temporary responsibilities.

McNally told the gathering that she realizes the transportation needs for Romulus citizens are growing, as the airport expansion continues.

"I didn't drive a car until I was in my 40s," McNally said, "and thus the bus that ran on Middlebelt Road was a lifeline for me and my children at that time."

McNally earlier stated the new service "will make it easier for the sons and daughters of those who can't get off work to take their parents to medical and other appointments."

SMART media officials said that the bus service will be able to connect riders with transportation to Fairlane and Westland Malls, Tiger Stadium and the Fox Theatre.

The one-way fare for senior citizens and people with disabilities is $1 and the general fare is $2.

Citizens seeking to reserve a ride on the connector should call 1-800- 624-3455 at least two days in advance. Medical trips should be phoned in at least six days in advance.

Group trips of five persons or more should be called in two weeks in advance, SMART officials said.

The hours the bus service is available is 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, except on holidays.

The vehicle is radio-equipped and contains wheel chair accessibility.

Romulus voters expressed opposition to the SMART millage last May, but since it was a cumulative election in each of the three counties that SMART serves, Romulus residents will be assessed the SMART tax and will receive extended bus services.

Other services are expected to be added in the future.

Incumbent City Treasurer James Leonard Napiorkowski, an unchallenged candidate in next week's election, vows to continue to operate the office "in an efficient cost effective manner."

Napiorkowski, 44, first was elected treasurer in 1987 and has been re-elected every two years since.

He said one of the key elements in his uncontested campaign is his vow to "maintain a positive financial position for the city and still maintain the services needed by the residents."

James Napiorkowski

Napiorkowski is a graduate of John F. Kennedy High School in Taylor. He also has attended classes at Wayne County Community College, Henry Ford Community College and Eastern Michigan University.

He previously was employed at General Motors.

Napiorkowski served in the U.S. Air Force from 1970-73 and the Michigan Air Guard from 1973-75.

He said the only relative involved in politics in the past was a great-grandfather, who was elected mayor years ago in Poland.

Napiorkowski said his previous years of experience as treasurer and his schooling in accounting and business administration make him qualified for his current position.

He remains active with many local civic and regional professional groups, such as the Romulus Kiwanis Club, where he has served as president, treasurer and secretary; the Salvation Army Advisory Council and the Romulus Veterans Memorial Committee.

Napiorkowski also is a past president of the Wayne County Treasurers Association, secretary of the Michigan Municipal Treasurers Association, chairman of the Wayne County District Library Advisory Committee, secretary/treasurer of the Romulus Building Authority, chairman of the Romulus Democratic Club and alternate representative to the Conference of Western Wayne.

He and his wife, Angelika, are parents of a son, James Jr. and a daughter, Michelle. The family has lived in Romulus for the past 20 years.

Clerk is sure of re-election

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Incumbent City Clerk Linda Choate, who was first elected to office in 1981, will be running in an uncontested race for re-election next Tuesday.

Choate, who has lived in Romulus for 33 years, graduated from Taylor Center High in 1958. She initially served as deputy clerk from 1977 to 1981.

As a keeper of city records, the clerk post usually is a non-controversial one and does not attract political opponents. Thus in recent years, as in this one, Choate has no opposition on next Tuesday.

Choate explains "everything we do (in the clerk's office) is pursuant to the city charter, state statutes or federal law."

She said, "While I may have private opinions regarding certain issues, I do not have a vote on the council nor am I permitted to participate in council discussions."

Choate expresses pride in her office's accomplishments including "ordinance codification, computerization of voting records, business licenses, city owned property and cemetery information."

She added, "Within the next two years, based on the availability of funds, I hope to have a document imagery. Wherein, documents can be stored on a disc. It would permit us to destroy boxes and boxes of dusty old records and retrieval through computer technology will be at our fingertips."

Choate and her husband, Kenneth, have two adult children, Richard and Suzanne.

She is a former president of the Association of Wayne County Clerks, ex-treasurer of the Michigan Municipal Clerks Association and has been active with the Greater Romulus Chamber of Commerce, 13th District Democrats, International Institute of Municipal Clerks and the Michigan Association of Clerks.

against an incumbent councilman, claiming the councilman left a harassing phone call on his answering machine.

Police have taken no final action on the matter, but Detective Lt. Kenneth Kraus said the phoned message contained no threats or implied threats.

McLachlan said he did not expect the Wayne County Prosecutor's office to support an official charge against the councilman, but he was simply trying to serve a wake-up call on the incumbent. He also said he was disappointed the councilman didn't admit to making the call.

McLachlan also was upset with the American Legion's concept that he was not a viable candidate and thus his initial invitation to speak at the recent Candidates' Night was withdrawn.

At the last minute, McLachlan was allowed to speak out of turn at the candidates' session last Thursday night in the council chambers.

Next Tuesday from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. local voters will be given a chance to decide if they want to extend the careers of incumbents Randolph Gear, Ellis Pennington, Michael Prybyla, Jimmie Raspberry and William Wadsworth.

Ten challengers, including Ryznar, Romak and McLachlan, will be seeking to fill the two seats left by retiring council members Mary Ann Banks and Noah "Pete" Bergeron or to upset any of the incumbents seeking re-election.

The other council candidates include Mary Collins, William Crova, Brooker Edwards, Jeanine Wafer-Frison, Tony Heimberger, Stanley Kreft or Gwendolyn Sibert.

A last council meeting prior to the election will be conducted next Monday at 7:30 p.m. At the last meeting, three of the six attending councilmen conducted a unified walk-out. No one is guessing yet, but since the session is televised all candidates are expecting some type of gesturing by any number of their peers.

New traffic officer begins Romulus duty

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

New Romulus Traffic Officer Lenn White recently returned from a traffic school attended by police officers from 10 other police departments.

White, 42, has been a Romulus police officer for nine years. Prior to that he served for eight years with the Garden City Police Department.

He succeeds Traffic Officer Jerome Yoscovits, who has left the department and has now joined the Wyandotte Police Force in his hometown.

As official traffic officer for the city, White investigates serious and fatal traffic accidents and handles all weigh master and truck violation matters.

White also has worked with Wayne County Traffic Engineer Rick Hodges and City Engineer Gerald Szveda on various road building designs aiming to create more safety within the city.

He will continue offering driver education classes within Romulus and along with Lt. Eric Painter will help set up special road routes for President Clinton when he is in the Romulus area, as well as for future visits by any presidential candidates in the next year or so.

Shiloh will offer 153 metal jobs

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Groundbreaking and dedication ceremonies for the planned $17 million Shiloh of Michigan facility that ultimately will employ 153 persons was conducted last Thursday on Inkster Road.

The new facility that will include a 150,000 square foot plant is the first Shiloh facility located outside Ohio.

Chief Executive Officer Robert L. Grissinger expressed his appreciation to Gov. John Engler and the Michigan Economic Growth Authority (MEGA) for the tax credits granted to his firm and its project partner, Rouge Steel.

"This assistance will prove enormously helpful to us as we demonstrate the steel blank-ing expertise of Shiloh in a very direct way to our Michigan neighbors," Grissinger said.

Shiloh began operations back in 1950 as a tool and die shop and has grown rapidly over the last 40 years to include numerous other sites in Ohio and now employs over 1,100 persons.

Shiloh's customers include automotive, appliance and other industrial manufacturers, as well as petroleum and natural gas producers.

"We're a company with uniquely Midwestern roots that has never compromised on quality. We don't flinch in the face of competition, we thrive on it. That's an American kind of success and today it becomes a Michigan success as well," Grissinger concluded.

the deep well issue is concluded in Romulus. Both felt it was up to the neighbors themselves to patch up any friendship wounds that have developed over the differences on the well issue.

Asked for concluding remarks on the campaign, McNally said, "We both have records to stand on. I'm proud of having the second lowest tax rate in Wayne County, along with healthy project developments."

Oakley said simply, "I and my supporters feel it is time for a change in City Hall. Too many city employees currently do not like their bosses."

He said he wasn't sure if the displeasure was pointing to McNally or the workers own department heads.

WILLIAM M. OAKLEY

PAID FOR BY OAKLEY FOR MAYOR COMMITTEE

RE-ELECT BILL WADSWORTH ROMULUS CITY COUNCIL

Romulus Resident for 28 years
Married 28 years to wife Virginia
Three children, John, James and Billy Employed Police Officer for 28 years Uniform Sgt. Wayne County Sheriff assigned to Metro Airport Member of St. Aloysius 28 years
Member Public Works Commission
Veteran, (3 years) U.S. Army

Dear Romulus Resident:

In 1983, 85, 87, 89, 91 and 93, when you elected me to the City Council, I vowed to vote fairly on all issues placed before me, always keeping in mind the needs of the citizens first. I believe I have.

During the 13 years I worked in Romulus as a Police Officer, I feel I know and understand the problems, needs and wants of all the citizens, from the youngest to the seniors.

My wife Virginia and I have lived in Romulus for 28 years. Our sons all graduated from Romulus schools and we think it is a fine community to raise a family.

During my six terms, we saw many positive things, new post office, paving of roads, completion of cable TV. I fought railroad expansion by CSX and won. Airport, commercial, industrial developments are important. But we must not sacrifice the quality of life for our residents. I stand on my voting record. Voting YES on second senior citizen tower, and more police and fire protection. Sued Metro Airport for flooding our subdivision. Vote YES for improvement in all city services. I voted NO on residential re-assessment, Deep Well Injection Disposal, any new trailer parks and I opposed any new residential tax to build a baseball park. Many things are still undone and I ask your support for a seventh term.

Thank you,
Bill Wadsworth

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE CITIZENS OF ROMULUS...

Dear Friends:

Next Tuesday, November 7th, will be election day when we will make some very important choices about the leadership and direction our city will pursue during the next two years. Those choices we make when we vote will determine the future of our community.

I want you to know how greatly honored I have been to have served as your Mayor for the last twelve years. Our association and our friendship will always be highlights of my life. I have had the privilege of working with the finest and most talented people to be found.

Together, we have seen our city prosper and assume its rightful place of importance to the region. In addition to attracting many new businesses and thousands of new jobs to our city, we now await the construction of the inter-change at I-94 and Vining for the anticipated development of Metro World. Perhaps you have seen the new signage advertising the property for development.

This project has drawn fire from some of its former proponents because of the time it has taken to materialize. It has been insinuated that General Fund money has been spent to accommodate the property owners. This is not true! The money which has been spent on infrastructure has been generated through the TIFA revenues and have resulted from the development along Wick, Wickham and Flynn Drive. And, according to law, these funds cannot be spent for any other purpose, as my opponents surely know. The citizen taxpayers have not contributed to the TIFA. However, the taxpayers did pay for the ex-mayor's efforts to put in water and sewer on Wick Road, water and sewer to no where.

In an attempt to panic you about the financial condition of the city, my opponent has claimed that we are headed for fiscal disaster; another false claim! The truth is that this year's audit report shows the city with a $2,327,898 General Fund balance. This is an appropriate amount for the size of our budget and hundreds of thousands of dollars more than my opponent can claim.

I cannot begin to address all the falsehoods and misrepresentations of my opponents. I can only thank you for your confidence and trust for the past 22 years of my public service career and assure you that the well being of our community has always been my first concern. I now pledge to you my continued hard working and caring in the future and ask for your vote on November 7th.

Most Sincerely,

Beverly McAnally

Local singer breaks through with Little Feat

Bob Harris and I write this column about people, places and things to do.

If you know of an event, please let us know by writing your local paper or by calling Benny at 313-730-1627.

After we mentioned Brian Styble's fine radio program on WJR, we were sad to hear WJR will change it's late night programming to a nationally syndicated show.

We can only hope another station steps forward continuing Styble's show.

Local radio personality Paul Christy will continue his Saturday morning slot and Mitch Albom will start an afternoon drive 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. show.

Heard from Ray, the owner of the Slam Dunk sports bar on Van Buren Road. They are getting ready to celebrate their seventh anniversary.

The Slam Dunk is open seven nights with darts, pool tables, bands, karaoke and food.

Heard from Al and Reisha. They report local singer Greg Scott has an excellent new LP, rock and roll with a modern country flavor.

Local singer Shan Murphy from Bob Seger's Band (she's the girl who sang Katmandu) has joined the national recording group Little Feat.

Bob Harris

The band has several LPs including a brand new release featuring Murphy on lead vocals.

Another popular local singer, now the project manager at Rite-On Industries Inc., is Jim Behringer.

Behringer spent several years singing for the band, Jeff and the Atlantics, recorded an album, appeared on television and sang the National Anthem at Tiger Stadium thanks to yours truly-Bob Harris.

Jim misses his singing career but enjoys the time with his family and night's bowling.

The Redford Township based Rite-On Industries is a manufacturer and designer of tools, fixtures, special welders and material handling equipment.

Places to go and things to do include:

- Rock and roll piano player Jason D. Williams performs Nov. 4 at the Magic Bag.

- The Wizard of Oz "On Ice" is Nov. 15-19 at Joe Louis Arena.

- Visit Frankenmuth Motel which is walking distance to Bavarian Inn Restaurant, the Main Street Christmas shopping district.

- The Shark Club has 24

Benny Speer

pool tables, 10 dart boards, eight televisions and the beer of the month.

- Michigan's 7th Annual Guitar Show is Nov. 4-5 at the Michigan State Fair grounds.

- Shoney's Airport Inn with the Carriage Cafe and indoor pools.

- The new Fire and Ice Lounge on Cherryhill Road, just east of Inkster, has pool, darts, dancing, karaoke and the Benny and the Jets Band live Thursday, Friday and Saturday. There is no cover charge.

And, quick let us talk about comedy.

- Detroit Mike Bonner at All Jokes Aside on Woodward across from the Fox Theater.
- The popular duo of Ken and Chris at the Backwoods Garden City.

- Las Vegas style comedy at Chaplin's east (Clinton Township) and west Detroit.

- Mainstreet Comedy in Ann Arbor.

- Mark Ridley's Comedy Castle in Royal Oak.

- Second City next to the Fox in Detroit.

- And our favorite, the Jim Freeman Show at the Eastown 18842 east 9 Mile in Eastpointe.

Heavenly production America angel reveals secret to flying, talking while on stage

By MARGO DEWEY
MCN News Editor

The rumor that an angel has been floating about the Fisher Theatre stage is absolutely true.

One of the most captivating plays, Angels in America, has arrived in the Detroit metropolitan area for a limited engagement.

Angels is both serious and funny, tragic yet hopeful, opulent but human. It is many stories in one including: a religious couple confronting a martial break-up; suburban drug addiction; Washington's explosive power circles; and gay lovers facing AIDS.

This production even challenges gender relations with several male roles being played by women.

There are actually two plays in Angels. Part one, "Millennium Approaches", presents a beautiful angel of death who appears to AIDS-stricken character Prior Walter.

Capitol Hill's ruthless Roy Cohn tries to woo a troubled Mormon government worker into his service. And Cohn himself discovers that he's infected with the AIDS virus.

In part two, "Perestroika", Cohn faces a fierce disbarment effort by his political enemies. His Mormon aide, unaware of Prior's illness, enters a relationship with the latter's former lover.

For his part, Prior learns that the angel that appeared to him at the end of "Millennium Approaches" has a startling celestial mission for him.

Carolyn Swift portrays the angel, and the very talented actress said that this role has been one of the most challenging for her.

"Put it this way, the angel in this production is not what you would expect," said Swift. "She doesn't come from the familiar lexicon of angels. In society we have a picture of angels who are not self-serv-

TC's Music Emporium casually combines store and coffee house

By IVAN HELFMAN
MCN Staff Writer

It took imagination and daring for TC's Music Emporium (35630 Michigan Avenue, Wayne) to combine a music store and a coffee house — but owner Tim Coshier did it.

And did it with such pizzazz that he ended up with a music store that provides a stage for shoppers to perform on while trying out the store's Schmidt line of guitars and other inexpensive quality instruments.

"I put the stage in front of the windows, New York show bar style, because playing up on a bandstand is like being in another world," said Coshier, a professional drummer who played in both Mel Tillis' and Eddie Rabbit's bands. "I know the thrill from performing. Most musicians would agree that one step up on a bandstand puts you someplace else."

Not only is there a stage to try out the music makers, but the instruments — most of which casually hang from the ceiling — are about the lowest priced ones in town.

"None of our Schmidt guitars cost more than $300, yet they're made by Washburn and come with a lifetime guarantee," said Coshier. "They sound like the best."

String instruments are TC's specialty. They sell new and electric, acoustic, and classic guitars. They sell electric basses, autoharps, and mandolins.

For pickers who like to play outdoors — at picnics or at the beach — they sell narrow Martin backpacker guitars and nine-volt battery powered portable amplifiers. The amplifiers can also be plugged into auto cigarette lighters.

"You can put them in a bag and easily carry them into the woods," said Coshier.

They sell used band instruments — clarinet, saxophones, trumpets, etc. — at prices that are often what it costs for a year's rental from new instrument dealers.

For the electric instruments, they sell vintage Washburn amplifiers.

"We're good for beginners because our prices are dirt cheap and lessons are geared toward beginners and kids," Coshier said.

Lessons are available for piano, organ, keyboard, and guitars.

In addition to selling new and used instruments, TC's repairs them and sells accessories. Accessories include mouthpieces, saxophone straps, reed oil and swabs for horns and reeds. And tuners, slides, picks, and tuning keys for guitars.

"We give away a lot of accessories with purchases," said Coshier.

Like the music store, the coffee house is informal and budget priced. Six different flavors of hot cappuccino — including the divine vanilla hazelnut — cost only $1.50 per tall mug.

A $2 donation is requested for the live Friday and Sunday night entertainment, currently featuring the Jive Blues Band.

TC's opens at 10 a.m., Monday - Saturday, and stays open late into the night. For more information, call 729-0230 ing.

"This angel is broken hearted, bitter and displaced. Out of this comes a mission. She hears a voice that says the way to solve the problem is to stop moving forward, but backward."

Portraying the angel not only required quite a bit of study as to the meaning behind her character, but also physical conditioning, according to Swift.

"This role demands focus of the mind, spirit and body," said Swift. "It takes as much strength as performing Shakespeare. It also takes intellectual muscle, emphasizing the muscle."

"The flying itself is very rigorous in this production. I'm literally suspended for 25 minutes in the air."

It took a lot of preparation for Swift to learn how to fly and present her lines at the same time.

"Physically, I did a lot of exercising for this part," Swift said. "It took about two months to coordinate both speaking and flying. You also have to consider the many layers of clothing I have to wear while flying. It's extremely heavy. I also wear a corset."

Tickets are now on sale for Angels In America at all Ticketmaster outlets and at the Fisher Theatre box office.

MCN board endorses McAnally, Talaga

We urge residents to study the issues and candidates before making a decision in the mayoral and council races next Tuesday.

In the judgment of the Michigan Community Newspapers editorial board, the following candidates are worthy of your vote:

Wayne has two races in the Nov. 7 council race, with the top three vote-getters in one race receiving four-year terms and the fourth candidate receiving a two-year term, plus a race for a term which expires November, 1997.

We endorse incumbents Donna McEachern, Bob Dickerson and current mayor Ken Warfield for the four-year terms, based on their experience and contributions to the city. First-term Councilwoman Pam Dobrowolski deserves a vote of confidence for her service in filling an unexpired term, and we support Jim Netter for the unexpired term. He is a 20-year resident of the city and has served on the Wayne Housing Commission and Wayne Citizens Advisory Council, which has provided him with practical experience in dealing with city issues and concerns.

With eight candidates vying for four Westland council seats, the voters will have difficulty choosing the best out of an impressive line-up.

We endorse veteran Councilman Tom Brown because of his knowledge and experience, the same reasons that we favor former state representative Justine Barns for a council seat. Both have the political connections and know-how to see that Westland will not be overlooked when county, state or federal programs are available.

Incumbent Chuck Pickering also has a wealth of experience in city government which qualifies him for another term in office.

We support newcomer Richard LeBlanc, who we believe would provide a much-needed link between the school district and the city, and members of our editorial board also gave the nod to incumbents David Cox and Glenn Anderson, leaving the voter to make his or her decision on the final choice.

It's a clear choice for mayor of Inkster - incumbent Edward Bivens Jr., during whose administration the city has experienced a renaissance. He has proven to be an effective leader, and he deserves another term to guide the city during the anticipated future development.

We also support the council incumbents Wanda Harris-Foster, James Colleran, Naomi James, Hilliard Hampton Jr. and John Clemens. However, we find it difficult to choose between incumbent Sheila Greene and challenger Ernest Hendricks, both of whom have a great deal of experience and expertise to offer the city. Either would be an excellent representative for the district.

In the race between Romulus Mayor Beverly McAnally and former mayor William Oakley, we endorse the incumbent.

Although we have not always been in agreement with the mayor, she has provided strong leadership for Romulus and we believe she can continue to serve the community effectively through the challenges ahead.

We endorse veteran Councilmen Jimmy Raspberry and Ellis Pennington, who are knowledgeable about the community and are sincere in their desire to work for the best interests of Romulus.

We also believe incumbents William Wadsworth, Michael Prybyla and Randolph Gear have been good representatives for their constituents.

Two challengers, Mary Collins and William Crova deserve support. Both of them would provide new perspectives to the council and would be able to work well with fellow council members.

Belleville voters face a choice between long-time resident and current Councilman Anthony (Tony) Talaga and challenger Dennis Fassett for mayor. Based on his years of experience, we endorse Talaga. However, Fassett's business background makes him a qualified choice to lead the city during its current spurt of growth.

Of the four candidates for Belleville City Council, we give our highest recommendation to Charles (Toby) Leis, who has proven his interest in the community by his participation in the Central Business Community and his willingness to volunteer his time to promote community events.

The second council seat could be filled well by either James Fitch or Dennis Besson.

"I HOPE THERE ARE AS MANY VOTERS AS THERE ARE SIGNS..."

Article on target

To the editor:

I want your readers to know how impressed my entire family was with Mary Collins' article in your paper last week. She hit the nail right on the head when she said that we need a "no nonsense government that lets people know what is going on".

Since moving here this year I have tried to follow local government issues, however it is very difficult to believe the current mayor and council when you focus on the key issues.

Both the mayor and council are covering up the need for tax increases, covering up the mistakes made with the Metro World development, covering up all the hiring of relatives and friends of the mayor and the council, and covering up the true situation with the well litigation for political purposes.

Political manipulation of facts is fine when it does not hurt Romulus residents, however the residents have a right to know the truth.

• Cash Position - The City's cash position has dwindled from an excess cash level in 1984 to almost zero today. City records verify this.

• Metro World - The City sacrificed $38 million to allow this development and its associated road construction and no income has been returned to the city. A road that has cost the tax payers of Romulus $8.3 million that leads to nowhere.

• Hiring of Friends - Hiring of friends is fine if it helps the city, however in this case I believe we have hired a bunch of freeloaders. I can't prove it but that is my fear.

• Statutes of Well Litigation - The Mayor has declared a victory over the well and so has Bill Wadsworth. However, in reading the entire article in the Romulus Roman last week it was clear that EDS's attorney stated that EDS will be appealing the U.S. Court decision. EDS's attorney also said he will continue the litigation. There is no victory as long as the matter is still in court. EDS will probably file more claims against the city because the city declined their M2 site recently. This is not a victory unless or until EDS drops all their law suits or the city settles the law suits.

We simply can not afford to keep spending $4 to $5 per month per household. For the mayor to declare this a victory is a flat out lie. She is deciding the voters or the attorneys are deceiving her.

Since our cash position is nearly zero, we simply can not afford to keep fighting in court. The voters spoke out against doing this when they rejected the recent millage by a 3-to-1 vote. The deception has to stop or the council will be required to push for more taxes.

Comments in error

The section of a letter, which included a personal attack on Sylvia Kozorosky-Wiacek, was inadvertently published last week.

We apologize for any embarrassment or distress which the letter may have caused.

Kozorosky-Wiacek noted that she is not the campaign manager for the candidate mentioned and disputes the charge that the Wayne-Westland School District experienced a "downfall" during her term of office.

Road funds detoured

To the editor:

Recently, Governor John Engler raided $192 million in federal funds provided through the Intermodal Surface Transportation Efficiency Act (ISTEA) for local road projects in Michigan. The Governor plans to use these funds to complete several state highway projects.

This action has severe implications for local road maintenance, especially snow removal. It has raised the ire of state legislators, county road commissions throughout the state, as well as several members of Michigan's Congressional Delegation, who have written to the U.S. Transportation Department, asking it to intervene on behalf of Michigan's local governments.

Name of hall criticized

To the editor:

Some time ago a study hall in one of the buildings on the University of Michigan campus in Ann Arbor was named after Angela Davis! There are thousands of teachers in the country that might be honored for their dedication and accomplishments in the classroom.

Why honor and pay homage to a woman dedicated to Communism and the overthrow of the United States government? Her vitriolic rantings and consistent attacks of corporation management continue to this day. I wouldn't name the third potty on the left after a woman who would abolish the right to private contract, private property, and the profit motive in the business world.

Committee takes stand

To the editor:

After our successful efforts to stop the recall of Wayne-Westland School Board members last spring, we made the decision to become more active in important citizens' issues, according to the significance of the issue.

As a committee, we are extremely concerned with the upcoming Westland City Council election. After viewing the Westland Chamber of Commerce "Meet the Candidates" program on cable, we decided to take an active role in this election.

As the chairperson of the Wayne-Westland Citizens Information Committee, I am proud to announce the names of the four candidates we endorse in the upcoming election.

Upon review of the legislative records and available information concerning the eight candidates, we believe Justine Barns, Tom Brown, David Cox and Chuck Pickering to be the most qualified candidates to best serve the citizens of Westland.

This committee would like to remind and encourage voters in Westland to vote Tuesday, Nov. 7.

Proposed laws not tough

To the editor:

There's a package of so-called Determinate Sentencing bills (HB 5033, 5034 and 5035) pending before the Legislature that were introduced to repeal consecutive sentencing for re-offending parolees, which should certainly not be adopted unless materially changed.

If the label Determinate Sentencing is supposed to be "tough-sounding," this package is the opposite of what it purports to be.

In no sense is this package "determinate."

First, "credits" of 84 days per year would continue to be subtracted from the so-called determinate sentence, just as it is now subtracted from the minimum sentence. The package would be a major setback for truth-in-sentencing and would likely make the state ineligible for "Truth-in-Sentencing" prison-building grants under the pending federal "Violent Criminal Incarceration Act of 1995."

Second, there is nothing determinate about the sentences which would be imposed under it. Except for the few cases where mandatory sentencing applies (e.g., First Degree Murder, Large Quantity Illegal Drugs), in every case, the sentencing judge could impose whatever sentence he or she chose.

Perhaps, the biggest objection is that it would destroy the potential for substantial savings to County taxpayers from use of the unserved maximum sentence (which Prosecutor O'Hair has estimated at $6-10 million per year for Wayne), as well as parolee accountability; if there's no "stick-in-the closet," released convicts are unsupervisable.

We need truth-in-sentencing and parolee accountability, and this package constitutes a big step backwards.

"Everyone wants to make his own road. That's why we've got so many bumpy roads," said Iris Rice, financial consultant to the Inkster Land Development Corporation at the group's Oct. 26 meeting. Her comment was prompted when a member quizzed her about undertaking a project on his own. Rather than to discourage his independent effort, Rice's quip pointed to the pitfalls of "making one's own road."

gether in commemorating this month-long event.

National Hospice Month provides the opportunity for agencies to pay tribute to the thousands of physicians, nurses, therapist, home care aides, social workers and volunteers who dedicate their lives to bringing the community the highest quality health care by providing hospice services to the terminally ill and their families.

Hospice care involves the combined knowledge and skills of a team of professionals and volunteers who serve thousands of terminally ill patients and their families. The medical, psychological, and spiritual support, primarily based in the home, enable families to remain together...sharing the final days in peace, comfort and dignity.

As we celebrate National Hospice Month, we urge you to take this time to inquire about what services are available to you; how to get those services; and what benefits you are entitled to under Medicare, Medicaid, private insurance of HMOs and other commercial type insurances.

We encourage you to visit Arbor Hospice and learn all you can about hospice before you, a relative or a friend who depends on you is faced with a terminal illness. Please call us at 677-0500 for more information about our hospice program and how you can get involved in the year's National Hospice Month celebration.

Ozone season ends

To the editor:
The Southeast Michigan ozone season is officially over. Residents of this region displayed a real appetite for information about air quality and a true desire to keep our air clean. On behalf of the entire Clean Air Coalition, thank you for helping fuel that appetite for information, and for helping citizens in Southeast Michigan understand their role in forming, and more importantly, in controlling ground-level ozone pollution.

The 1995 Ozone Action! campaign was a success, but we still have some work to do as a region to keep our air clean. Southeast Michigan experienced a record-breaking 16 Ozone Action! days, exceeding the federal standard of 125 part per billion (ppb) on only six days during the summer. Southeast Michigan is currently considered an attainment area with a violation. That is why the Governor must choose a contingency measure - to ensure we stay in attainment.

A Coalition poll suggest that 78 percent of Southeast Michigan households were aware of the Ozone Action! program and 64 percent of households took action on designated Ozone Action! days, translating to 1.1 million households in the region. These figures are up from the 1994 season when 640,000 households reported taking voluntary actions on Action! days.

In 1996, Southeast Michigan will face a continued air quality challenge: Our ozone season will begin with two stations with four exceedances already on record (New Haven, Algonac), and two stations with three exceedances (Oak Park, Detroit-7 Mile). Four exceedances at any one station constitutes a violation and may trigger additional pollution control measures. The remaining stations have two or less exceedances recorded. The Clean Air Coalition is already gearing up for this challenge by expanding its school curriculum program and its public education initiatives.

Again, thank you for supporting the 1995 Ozone Action! program through your fine work. We are looking forward to your support when the ozone season begins again next spring.

Laws challenged

To the editor:
I'm worried!
After the news last night that even Canada - after passing tough laws virtually banning media tobacco advertising as well as requiring extremely large health warnings on each pack - has been told to cease their successful ban because such restrictions are unconstitutional.

The tobacco industry, the same tobacco giants that have successfully continued their sales of unhealthy tobacco products in our country.

What does this mean to us here in the areas of Western Wayne County? It means that the tobacco industry's delay efforts continue - like their getting our state legislative leaders at Christmas time 1993, to include a preemption clause as part of the new tobacco tax law.

Letter's facts disputed

To the editor:
Richard LeBlanc has done more for this community in his 35 years than most anyone living here a lifetime.

Some decisions made with the school board may not be popular, but they had to be done for the good of the community. It isn't a popularity contest.

I think that C. Porter and J. Holfmann (writers of letters) are woefully misguided or are they guided by city council wannabees?

Incidentally, Sylvia Kozorosky-Wiacek never was affiliated with Richard LeBlanc's campaign. He would, however, welcome her support.

Maybe the candidate behind these letters should step forward and confront Richard on their own rather than hide behind these misguided individuals.

Sound-Off has moved to Sunday.

The phone number and times remain the same; only the day of publication has changed.

Readers who wish to comment on issues of general interest may phone their gripes or praises to the Sound-Off 729-4006 line between 5 p.m. and 8 a.m. weekdays and at any time during the weekend.

All comments - excluding profanities and personal attacks on individuals - will be published in the Sunday edition of Eyewitness.

In the Nov. 5 edition, the last-minute update on the city elections in Romulus, Belleville, Inkster, Wayne and Westland will be featured.

In addition, the danger of crossing the newspaper picket lines will be vividly told through the story of the beating of a Detroit daily news carrier. Other acts of vandalism and sabotage against the Detroit-based newspapers will be explored in the article.

Each Sunday, Eyewitness will contain reviews of area restaurants, the latest film releases and new plays being staged plus updates on news from Western Wayne and Washtenaw counties.

The Eyewitness is available at news stands and area stores. Information on sites where the Eyewitness can be purchased is available by calling the circulation department at 729-4000

Temperature takes nose dive

Indian Summer appears long gone, as the first 20 degree night time temperatures are forecast this weekend.

Cloudy skies and a 60 percent chance of rain is slated for today with highs in the 60s during the day, dipping to the 30s tonight.

On Friday, cloudy skies will remain with highs dropping to the 40s and lows at night in the 30s.

Temperatures will dip

sharply on Saturday, when cloudy skies will seem even murkier as the highs will only reach the 30s and nights will fall to the 20s for the first time this season.

Even Sunday will offer little relief, as no sun is forecast and temperatures will remain in the 30s (high) and 20s (low).

Woman trains dogs for search, rescue

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
MCN Managing Editor

The every day stories of search and rescue dogs and their handlers are the kind of tales made for television specials, or, in this case, a book titled So That Others May Live.

The book, written by Hank Whittemore and Caroline Hebard, tells heroic tales of rescue workers — both human and animal who have saved countless lives around the world and who have recovered numerous victims of disasters.

A suburban homemaker, who is the daughter of a career diplomat, seems to be an unlikely person to be a search-and-rescue worker, but Caroline Hebard exploded all of the stereotypes when she began rescue operations that have brought her to disasters all over the world.

She and her Schutzhund-trained German shepherds have gone on rescue operations following earthquakes in Japan, Armenian and Mexico and floods in Tennessee and New York.

Hebard first owned an American-bred German shepherd, which developed hip dysplasia, a condition which limited his training. When she decided to purchase a second German shepherd, she looked to Germany where there are much stricter rules governing dog breeding and, consequently, less chance of such bone disorders occurring.

Hebard used German commands — "hier" for come, "platz" for down, "sitz" for sit and "fuss" for heel, and when the dog performed well, "feiner hund," for good dog.

Her dog, Zibo, had completed his Schutzhund I training in Germany, and was ready to proceed with tracking.

During the training, the dog is given a whiff of a specific human's scent, and is required to follow it close to the ground without the handler's guidance.

Air-scent tracking is possible because of the microscopic dead skin cell which humans shed at a rate of about 40,000 each minute, each gives off a unique scent which enables the trained dogs — whose sense of smell is 100 times greater than that of human's — to follow it.

Zibo had his first opportunity to track a person when an elderly man disappeared into a wooded area in Virginia.

Hebard and her dog were joined by five other handlers and their dogs in the search, and Zibo found the man weak and insect-bitten but well. At this point, she was "hooked" on rescue work.

She became a member of the Ramapo Unit of the search and rescue operation, which had as its motto, "Have dogs, will travel." At the same time, she qualified as a registered emergency medical technician and an American Red Cross instructor in first aid and cardiopulmonary resuscitation.

When her rescue work took her away from home and her family for increasing periods of time, she and her husband arranged for a woman to keep house in her absence.

During her early days as a dog handler, Hebard encountered some resistance from men who believed it was not a woman's occupation. Later, when she attempted to join her local fire department as a medical technician, she ran into a proverbial brick wall.

Eventually she earned a place on the department by using patience, persistence, consistency and fairness — the same qualities she used in her dog training — to win over her human adversaries.

Disappointingly for Hebard, she also experienced petty jealousy and rivalry between different groups of rescuers on site, and also found that politics played an unwanted role in where rescuers were dispatched.

Following her trip to Armenia in 1988, President Ronald Reagan said, "Thanks to people like you here today, the Armenians have not had to face this tragedy alone. You conveyed what was truly a universal message, one for us all to remember at this time of

The book tells heroic tales of rescue workers, both human and animal, who have saved countless lives around the world and who have recovered numerous victims of disaster.

That's something you have shown in a very real and important way."

Hebard and her dog participated in the search for bodies following the Alfred P. Murrah Federal Building bombing in Oklahoma City. The dogs were able to locate the bodies of at least 50 victims.

The book, published by Bantam, is available at local bookstores for $21.95.

Caroline Hebard appears with her dog, Pascha, from the cover of her book So That Others May Live which is now on sale at local bookstores. MCN Special Photo

Area residents participate in local hospital cycling benefit

Several Westland residents participated in the Ride for Rehab bike-a-thon Oct. 4 which was sponsored by the Oakwood Hospital Heritage Center Foundation.

The event gathered more than $33,000 for the purchase of a wheelchair van for use in the "Community Re-Entry" program at Oakwood Hospital Heritage Center-Taylor.

Westland residents who participated in the cycling benefit included Mike Engberts and Tierra McHenry.

The van is an integral part of the re-entry program which helps rehabilitation patients apply the skills learned in therapy as they visit local shops, buildings and recreation areas.

The goal of the rehabilitation program is to restore meaning and independence to patients who are physically and cognitively impaired as a result of illness or injury.

"Ride for Rehab" featured two-mile, 10-mile and 20-mile cycling routes winding through the Oakwoods, Willow and lower Huron Metroparks.

Each rider received a complimentary water bottle and gift bag which included coupons.

Following the ride, cyclists enjoyed a lunch and a mini-health fair. They also had a chance to participate in raffles for nine mountain bikes (donated by area merchants).

A Toymaker's Dream

International troupe mesmerizes audiences with story of love

By MARGO DEWEY
MCN News Editor

Words are replaced by athletic choreography, facial expressions reveal the emotions of each unique character and the music ties together the mystery behind The Masterpiece, A Toymaker's Dream.

Headed to Tri-City Christen Center in Canton Township Nov. 9-11, Toymaker has been seen by three million people throughout the world.

The live-stage production combines music, ballet, modern dance and mime with extraordinary costumes and artistic makeup, according to Ryan Stafford who portrays the Toymaker's son.

"I've played this role for 2 1/2 years now," said Stafford. "It is definitely a one-of-a-kind production. Even though there are no words spoken, every audience member can understand the meaning behind A Toymaker's Dream."

Stafford said he began acting when he was in elementary school. It wasn't, however, until he landed a role in Damn Yankees in junior high that he decided to make acting a career.

After graduating from Santa Fe High School in 1989, he decided to pursue his academic studies by attending Oral Roberts University where he is currently majoring in history with an emphasis in pre-law.

He said Toymaker is a production the entire family will enjoy.

"There is a lot of dramatic movement which allows for the meaning of the play to be understood by anyone," Stafford said.

A Toymaker's Dream is sponsored by Impact Productions. This summer the troupe toured the African countries of Nigeria and Guinea.

In October 1992, Stafford traveled to Juarez, Mexico as a member of the missionary team from Impact Productions.

He was also a team leader for Oral Roberts University (ORU) Summer Missions and Teen Mania Ministries in Nicaragua the summer of 1992.

"In 1991 I was a member of the missionary team from ORU Summer Missions to Amsterdam," said Stafford. "As I look back at the goals I have accomplished, I find that being a member of A Toymaker's Dream is one of the more challenging roles I have had."

"I had done street dramas overseas in Nicaragua and Amsterdam. All those experiences prepared me for the role as the Toymaker's son."

Set to an original music score, A Toymaker's Dream utilizes 100,000 watts of lighting and 15 tons of sound and special effects equipment worth $250,000.

The storyline follows the Bible before creation, according to Stafford.

"It brings out the message of obtaining love, hope and dreams," said Stafford. "We are continuing to spread this message throughout the world. A Toymaker's Dream has been seen by audiences in 22 countries. The troupe also represented the U.S. at the 1992 Expo World's Fair in Seville, Spain."

The Kansas City native said he still enjoys the rigorous travel schedule. In fact, he only has two weeks off during the Christmas season and in the summer to relax.

Although the theme of Toymaker is religious, Stafford said he doesn't classify himself as religious.

"I have a personal relationship with Jesus Christ," said Stafford. "I'm out there doing this because this is what God has called me to do. As long as this is what God wants me to do, I will continue with this path."

Do audiences all over the world react the same to the production when they see it for the first time?

"It's impossible to please everyone," said Stafford. "We get a lot of questions about the show when the production ends. The majority of the reactions we do receive, however, are very positive."

"A Toymaker's Dream is something you have to see in person in order to understand the message."

Tickets are now on sale for

Down by 2 TDs, Salem comes back to stun Canton, 28-21

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Call it a jinx.
Or a curse of some kind.
Maybe it's sheer magic.
But whatever it is,
Plymouth-Salem and coach
Tom Moshimer have it. Especially when the Rocks take to the field against natural rival, Plymouth-Canton.
How else can you explain the unbelievable 28-21 come-from-behind Salem victory of underdog Salem over at the time playoff-hopeful Canton Friday night in a game played before some 3,000 shivering fans?

"I don't have any explanation for this," moaned Canton coach Bob Khoenle, whose team, with its third setback, may have lost its bid for an invitation to play in the postseason Class AA playoffs.
"They did this to us last year.

The year before, and now.

"Do I have an explanation?
No I don't."

But Moshimer did.
"Our kids played their hearts out, especially in the second half. We told them that there were two quarters left and we expected them to go out there and win."

They did.

The Rocks defense, after they had given up three first-half TDs, shut out an explosive

Canton offense in the final two quarters of the 1995 season.
They settled down after they gave up TDs to quarterback Rob Johnson, a 40-yarder; to Ron Hunter, a 11-yarder; and to Michael Montgomery, who scored from 21-yards out.

Then, the tradition of the unrivaled rivalry added another chapter to the incredible when Salem returned to the field after the intermission.

Quarterback Nate Gray and tight end Kirk Craggs teamed up for a 22-yard touchdown play to provide the Rocks with their lone first-half score.

Brian James nailed the point after to make it a 14-7 game.

Before Canton answered before the half with its third and what proved to be its final score.

Less than one-minute into the third period, Salem was on the scoreboard with its second touchdown. The Chiefs kicked off and the ball was put in play at the Rocks' 29.

Salem tailback Randy Mack stunned Canton with an off-tackle run, bouncing off of a couple of linebackers and racing 71 yards for the touchdown.
When James' kick split the uprights, Salem had closed within seven (21-14) of erasing the deficit.

Mack struck again seven

Wayne ends Glenn rule of fall football classic

Romulus finishes strong

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Romulus could not have found a better way - a big victory - to end the 1995 high school football season.

The Eagles turned in their best overall performance on offense to rip Garden City 30-20 Friday night in a crossover Mega Conference game.

Standing at the doorsteps of football oblivion just a year ago, coach Mark Woodson's club has brought the Eagles back with impressive back-to-back victories over Wayne Memorial and Garden City.

The Eagles' overall mark on the year is 3-6, two more wins than a year ago. In their inaugural season in the Mega, they posted a 2-5 record.

"This season was really a learning experience for all of us around here," said Woodson, a former pro who prepped at Robichaud. "These kids faced a lot of adversity and managed to overcome it."

"I am really looking forward to next year."

Romulus senior quarterback Ryan Evans went to work early on the Garden City defense. A couple of quick overthe-center pass completions to Jamal Bailey and freshman tailback Fred Russell's ability to elude GC defenders moved - no, splashed their way from their own 30-yard line after the opening kickoff to the GC 12 where, on the 13th play of the series, Evans and Bailey teamed up for what would be Romulus' first of five touchdowns.

At both ends of the field,
there were huge pools of water deposited by the recent rains.

Up 6-0 early in the initial quarter, Romulus made it a 12-0 game with its second score midway in the second quarter.
Evans again engineered a mid-field drive that culminated with Russell's 11-yard, off-tackle run into the end zone.
Evans kept the drive alive
thanks to a pair of third down pass completions that went to Roy Chambers, who accounted for catches of 14 and 17-yards in the series.

Garden City countered with a 60-yard drive after the kickoff and scored its first and only TD of the first half. They also cashed in on a two-point conversion to close the gap at halftime 12-8.

Garden City refused to quit even after Romulus came back with two TDs in the third quarter. Evans, on an option, capped a 70-yard drive with his first touchdown to lift the visitors to an 18-8 advantage but GC came back and closed the gap 18-14 and eventually took the lead 20-18 after they blocked a Romulus punt and cashed in on it for the go-ahead touchdown.

Romulus regained the lead

Members of the Wayne Memorial football team celebrate and raise high the Fall Classic Trophy, emblematic of winning the "city championship", after turning back their natural rival, Westland John Glenn. The trophy was presented to the team and coach Chuck Howton by Wayne-Westland Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Duane Moore (second from right) Friday night after the Zebras rallied to a thrilling 26-21 victory. It is only the fifth time in the 25-year-history of the fall classic that Wayne has walked off the gridiron the victor.

Playoff prayer Belleville seeks post-season redemption

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Nearly a year ago, a highly-touted Belleville football team clashed with a Westland John Glenn for a regional football championship and crashed.

Friday night, Flint Carman-Ainsworth, will land in Belleville with a 7-2 record and take on coach Bob LaPointe's undefeated and state-ranked Tigers at 7:30 p.m.

Some Belleville fans are praying that their team won't crash in its second-ever postseason appearance.

But LaPointe says that, despite the questionable availability of senior fullback Ian Gold, his team is ready.

Gold is nursing a leg injury that has sidelined him for the past two games, including last week's Belleville 34-28 victory over a highly-regarded Warren DeLaSalle.

"Our team is as ready as it will ever be," said LaPointe whose Tigers have won two consecutive Mega Conference Red Division titles and are again 9-0 on the season. "We won't be doing anything any different than we have been doing all year long."

And what does the veteran coach know about Flint Carman-Ainsworth?

"I know that they finished second in their league and have some exceptional athletes on their team. Any team that makes the playoffs you have to respect."

Will Gold, who has scored 19
TDs this season be ready to go, coach?

"He is still questionable," LaPointe replied. "We will be meeting with a doctor on Thursday and we will abide by what he (the doctor) has to say.
Believe me, we're not going to jeopardize Ian's health for this game."

"If the doc gives his approval, then Ian will play."
Filling the huge void created by Gold's absence in the Belleville backfield is senior Rodney Komaromi who has turned in superlative performances in his last two outings.

Komaromi, a versatile athlete who was an All-Area grappler for the past two seasons, scored three touchdowns,
rushed for a career best 211 yards on 13 carries. His longest TD run against Warren Friday night was an 89-yarder.

A Nate Lewis to tight end Eric Summers pass accounted for a fourth Belleville score while tailback Joe Manuel also tallied from three yards out.

plaque, while the Tigers were awarded the second-place trophy thanks to a total of 61 points. Lincoln Park, also a Mega Conference affiliate, finished third (97) to also qualify for state.

Following the three state qualifiers were: Monroe (103),

Last-ditch rally lifts Zebras

Some have the "Little Brown Jug."

Others the "Golden Spoon" game.

But, for Wayne Memorial and Westland John Glenn, it's the Fall Classic.

The annual Fall Classic has decided football bragging rights between the two crosstown rivals for the past 25 years.

Moreover, it also has spotlighted some of the nation's top coaches, like University of Michigan's Lloyd Carr, who served as Westland John Glenn's head football coach in the 1970s, before going on to University of Michigan fame.
And featured NFL caliber players, like Glenn's Tony Boles and Wayne's Rick Rogers and Bruce Calhoun.

Glenn, after losing the first three of the classic encounters, has dominated the series which began in 1970 thanks to the sponsorship of the Wayne Jaycees.

The Rockets were well on their way of maintaining their monopoly Friday night, but got sidetracked, 26-21, by a Wayne team that refused to lose to their neighborhood rivals.

"Our record isn't anything anyone would want to write home about," said Wayne coach Chuck Howton. "But winning a game like this eases the pain. These kids played their hearts out to win this one.
They just didn't want to lose."

It was, indeed, a wild, wild game from start to finish.

And some 2,000 fans stayed to the finish.

It took an all-out performance by junior Wayne quarterback Lorenzo Guess, who hit on 11 of 21 passes for 162 yards and two TD passes, to get the job done.

Wayne marched 79-yards in 12 plays and scored at the 4:54
mark on tailback Dwayne Jackson's off-tackle slant. Jackson also chipped in the two-point conversion. The unaccommodating hosts were suddenly up 8-0.

It was another Jackson - Jay
- who scored the next touchdown. But this one went into the Rockets' column. Glenn quarterback Justin Berent put together a long drive that began late in the first quarter and ended at 10:16 in the second period with the Rockets' Jay Jackson crashing through the Wayne line and scoring from three-yards out. Jackson also scored the two-point that tied the score at eight-all.

The Westlanders surprised Wayne the next time they got the ball. After Brant Tajari punted to the Glenn 35, on the first play from scrimmage Be-rent decided to give Jackson the ball again, and the elusive tailback slipped off tackle and raced 65 yards, hugging the left-side of the sidelines until he reached the Wayne end

The extra point attempt failed, but the visitors were up 14-8.

Wayne had 5:11 left to retaliate. And Guess pulled it off. A sustained drive from midfield carried Wayne to the Glenn 17 where the junior QB went the distance after eluding six Edsel Ford (118), Wyandotte (141), Dearborn (172), Fordson (190), Woodhaven (208) and Wayne Memorial (307).

Belleville also placed three of its seven runners on the all-regional squad. The top 10 finishers were recognized as all-regional.

Bedford also produced the regional champ. She's Natasha Mindera who toured the course in 19:29 and led Edsel Ford's outstanding runner, Tara Shamev, who ran a 19:48.

Two points separated Plymouth-Salem from at least a share of the 1995 Western Lakes Conference cross country championship.

Despite stellar performances on Saturday from Jared Bininecki and Scotty Pengelli, the Rocks lost the conference title to Walled Lake Central by a narrow 70-72 margin.

Bininecki won the conference meet, and teammate Pengelli was third, but Central had the second-best overall runner in Bob Donovan and the depth to hold off the serious challenge from Salem's runners.

Plymouth-Canton harriers finished third with 97 points, followed by North Farmington (114), Livonia Stevenson (134), Walled Lake Western (159), Farmington Harrison (187), Farmington (191), Northville (221), Westland John Glenn (240), Livonia Franklin (258) and Glenn defenders. The two teams settled for a 14-all tie at halftime.

Wayne grabbed a 20-14 lead at the 4:50 mark of the third quarter when Guess and sure-handed junior receiver Richard Rashad combined on a 13-yard touchdown pass. But the Zebras failed to connect on the point-after, leaving them in jeopardy.

A big Wayne turnover gave Glenn the lead. After an ex-across the finish line. LP's Christina Davidson turned in with the bronze after a 19:58 performance.

Belleville's best effort came from Beth Hiser, a freshman who finished seventh overall with a time of 20:31. Teammate Tammy Pietrowski was one step behind, finishing eighth in 20:32.

Belleville also counted the scores of Katie Ackron, who was 12th (20:52); Michelle King, 16th (21:11); and Lisa Jones (21:19). The Tigers' Jamie Koren was 21st (21:24) and freshman Missy Arter gave the Tigers a 56th finish (25:02).

In the men's division, Be-change of punts, the Westlanders got possession at the Wayne 35-yard line on the miscue, and Berent proceeded to move the Rockets to the one where he eventually crashed over for the equalizer.

When Paling booted the extra point, Glenn had now established the narrowest of leads (21-20).

Glenn, buoyed by the tireless performances on defense by halfback Bernie Toby, leville finished 12th with 320 and failed to qualify a runner for the regional. Temperance Bedford again surfaced as the winner (33) with Wyandotte and Monroe sharing the second-third spots after each finished with 75 points.

Fordson's Abdul Alzindani continued to sparkle. After winning the prestigious Mega Conference Red Division title, the Fordson senior came back and won the regional championship with a 15:26 performance. A far-second was Bedford's Jesse Elzinga (16:01), while Dearborn harrier Reed Steele was clocked in the third-best time of 16:10.

Livonia Churchill (324).

Glenn also placed two of its runners on the all-Lakes Divisional team. Joe Wojtowicz, who led the Rockets, had the 13th best time of the meet when he crossed the finish line in 17:33. Teammate Chris Gillen, who finished 14th in 17:34, also was awarded an all-division berth.

The top seven finishers were awarded all-conference accolades; the next seven were selected to the all-division, first team, and the following seven were named to the all-division, second team, according to conference coaches.

Glenn Coach Jess Shough also counted the scores of Justin Keyes, who was 61st (19:21); Jason Ennis, 75th (20:02); Jeremy Stuart, 77th (20:13); Jim Koch, 80th (21:05); and Kurt Boardman, 84th (23:25).

High school harriers on Saturday will compete for regional titles and the right to advance to the state finals. In order to qualify for state, a team must be among the top three finishers at regional.

minutes later when his three-yard up-the-middle run over the Canton goal line capped a midfield Salem drive.

With James' third consecutive PAT, Salem had tied the score at 21.

It was a tremendous effort by both teams.
- Tom Moshimer

Then came the fun part. For Salem, of course.

After an exchange of punts, Gray managed to move the Rocks to the Canton 24 where he again hooked up with Craggs on a pass that would break the deadlock.

James kick for the point-after was good, and Salem had the lead.

But Canton had 3:16 left to do it.

They didn't.

Using a spread formation that had caused five of their eight opponents problems, Canton came back and Johnson managed to connect on a couple of first-down passes. On a third and 30, Canton also got the benefit of a roughing-the-passer penalty.

Then, it looked as if Cantor had the magic when a "Hail Mary" pass that bounced off one of the Salem players wound up as a completion inside the Rocks' 30.

But Salem held for four downs.

"It was a tremendous effort by both teams," Moshimer noted. "As I said before this game, there is a rivalry between the two schools that is second to none. To our credit, we managed to avoid those unsportsmanlike penalties usually associated with these kinds of rivalries."

There is something about non-conference football rivals that apparently bring the worst out of Robichaud.

For the third time this season, a non-league affiliate, embarrassed the defending Suburban Athletic Conference champ on the gridiron.

This time it was playoff-bound Monroe Jefferson. Jefferson on Friday beat the champs, 27-0. The loss dipped Robichaud's record to 5-3 on the year and shattered any chance for a Class B playoff berth.

"Jefferson has an excellent team," stressed Robichaud coach Bob Yauck. "We tried to make some adjustments to generate offense at halftime but they (Monroe) still managed to stop us. "We had opportunities but couldn't capitalize on them."

One such opportunity was a third-quarter, quarterback Adrian Washington pass in the end zone that was dropped with no Monroe defender around.

"I think that one play exemplified the kind of game we played, missed- opportunities on our part all over the place."

Senior Robichaud tailback Omar Speights, however, continued to shine for the Bulldogs as he chalked up 102 yards on 16 carries.

Yauck said he used Washington in the QB slot and was impressed with his performance.

"He (Adrian) did his job. Our receivers didn't."

It was also Robichaud's final ride in the SAC. School officials have informed the Suburban Athletic Conference that it is severing ties at the end of the current school year. Robichaud plans to compete as an independent next year.

"With two Class B schools in the SAC (Inkster and Ecorse), we would never make the playoffs if we stayed in. That is why we need to go independent next year," Yauck explained.

for good in the fourth quarter when, on the second play from scrimmage, Russell broke loose on a 63-yard run for a touchdown. It was the freshman's longest run of the season.

Hanging to a precarious 24-20 lead, the Eagles sealed the victory thanks to a GC miscue. After Evans marched his team to the GC 2-yard line, the Eagles turned over the ball on a fumble. But the play was nullified when officials detected 12 GC players on the field.

This gave Evans a second shot and, again with the option, he slipped in for his second touchdown of the game. Russell finished with 182 yards, on 21 rushes and two touchdowns - a career high. Evans, despite the watery conditions, managed to connect on 14 of 22 passes for 166 yards. He also scored two TDs. Bailey had three of those catches for 45 yards (and one TD), while Chambers finished with seven catches and 72 yards.

On defense, Chambers also collected two interceptions and seven solo tackles. Jamal Prince, a cornerback, knocked down two enemy passes and carded nine tackles while end Waynard Shreve finished with three sacks.

Zebras ready for swim meet

By LORI GILLESPIE
MCN Staff Writer

Wayne Memorial swimmers ended their regular season, 4-5.

The Zebras ended the season with two losses. They lost to Monroe, 114-71, and to Dearborn, 117-69.

Against Monroe, Tammy Raines took first in the 100 Butterfly, Cristi Brumlow won in the 100 Backstroke (1:11.11), and Wayne won the 200 Freestyle Relay with a team consisting of Pam Prpich, Sybil Henderson, Katie Pardee and Andrea McCahill. Teresa Yorke had her best time in the 200 Freestyle event (2:15.17).

Kasey Holt took first in diving against Dearborn (195.1), Brumlow took the 100 Backstroke (1:10.74) and Pardee won in the 100 Breaststroke

(1:19.62).

Coach Mike Grueber said his girls are definitely ready for the championships. "We've had a good year, they've worked hard. It's time to see the results of their hard work."

The preliminary round for swimming started yesterday, with the prelims for diving scheduled for this evening. Finals will take place on Friday. The prelims and the finals are at Trenton.

Grueber made a prediction about the championships. "I think all of my girls will do their best times in at least one event."

With the end of the swim season, the coach had a few people to thank. "Our coaching staff wants to thank the parents for their support of the swim team and for being at the meets."

Westland swim season ends

By LORI GILLESPIE
MCN Staff Writer

Two swimmers and two divers from Westland-John Glenn qualified for the State Championships as the Rockets finished their season.

Adrienne Turri has qualified in the 100 freestyle, the 50 freestyle, the 100 backstroke and the 100 butterfly. Turri was the only freshman in the finals last year, when she finished fourth in the state for the 100 backstroke.

Joining Turri at the State Championships will be Kristen Stone, who qualified for the 50 freestyle. Sarah Coombs and Shelley Underwood will be taking part in the diving regionals in November.

The Rockets finished up their season, 3-5.

Their last meet was against Plymouth-Salem. The Rockets lost this meet, but the team had some strong showings.

Stone qualified for the State Championship with 25.66 in the 50 freestyle. According to Jim Daniel, assistant coach, Turri was outstanding in the 100 freestyle (56.5), Ingrid Knoff had her best time ever in the 50 freestyle portion of the 200 freestyle relay. Krista Kordie had her best time of the year in the 100 brestroke, and Amber James experienced her personal best in the 100 butterfly, breaking 1:20 for the first time ever.

The Rockets celebrated seniors night during their meet with Salem, as this was the last dual-meet for the senior team members. Seniors departing the team are: James, Jill McPartlin, Melanie Smitt, Coombs and Underwood.

Daniels said he believes the team is ready for the conference meets. "Most of the girls are doing their best times of the year. We've had some tough competition and the girls are doing very well. They're as ready as they're going to be. We're hoping that Adrienne can do as well as last year. She hasn't managed to match her time last year. We're hoping that she will peak out at State."

Basketball game site determined

In 1996 and 1997, the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) Women's Division II National Basketball Championship Tournament will be held in Angola, Indiana, on the campus of Tri-State University. Tri-State University and the Angola community are excited and proud to host this prestigious national tournament, which will take place March 6-12, 1996.

The Division II championship is a 32-team, single-elimination tournament featuring the champions of 18 affiliated conference and five regions with nine at-large berths. The teams will represent 21 states from across the nation.

Canton Chiefs boost successful season

By LORI GILLESPIE
MCN Staff Writer

Since it is difficult to play tennis in the snow, the girls tennis season has come to an end.

The Canton Chiefs ended their season with a 7-6 record.

"I was real pleased with the team this year. Considering there was a lot of shifts made in the team, changing partners. The girls really came together as a team," coach Barbara Hanosh stated. "They definitely improved. Our league status was moved up compared to last year. And considering that the competition was tougher than usual, this was quite an accomplishment."

The Chiefs achieved many of their goals this year.

"For the most part, the girls each wanted to improve. One team goal was to move up our status in the league. We did this by one step. There are four teams in our conference who went to State (finals). This makes for a difficult season because of the competition," Hanosh said.

If you want to be successful, you have to put some effort into it.

"We were successful because of the girls' own dedication and commitment to the team," Hanosh said. "I am proud of the girls. It is rough having their season right at the beginning of the school year, especially for this team which has practice every night and some matches on the weekends."

Hanosh said the strongest players on her team were number one singles player, Nikki Rahmert and number three singles, Rupa Patel, both seniors.

According to the coach, these are the players she expected would be stand-outs.

"Two years ago, they were an outstanding doubles team. As the team changed, they moved on to singles. Even though the numbers don't show it, they played very well. They helped the team come together."

Canton took part in the Regionals Oct. 13-14.

Out of 14 teams, Canton took seventh place. Pretty good, considering their competition.

According to Hanosh, Ann Arbor Pioneer and Ann Arbor Huron have gone to the state finals every year for 25 years, trading off first and second place.

"The play-offs are always extremely difficult. Our conference is the most difficult in the state, no doubt about it."

Under-18 Michigan Hawks win 1996 State Cup honors

The U-18 Michigan Hawks girls soccer team have won the 1996 State Cup.

The Hawks qualified for the semi-finals with a win against the U.S.L. Express (2-1), a forfeiture by Kalamazoo's Zoo Crew, and a loss to the Troy T.P.S.A. Challengers (2-0).

The semi-finals and final games were played at the Macomb Community College Oct.

21-22.

The Hawks came up against the Gazelle T.K.O. in the semi-finals. The Hawks won, 5-0. Meanwhile, the T.P.S.A. Challengers also won their game against the L.Y.S.C. United.

In the final round between the Hawks and the Challengers, the Hawks were triumphant, winning 2-0. This championship places them as Michigan's representative in the U-18 Division next June at the regional competition in Lexington, KY. The finals will take place in Indianapolis, Indiana in July.

Members of the Hawks include co-captain Mari Hoff and Julie Buczek from Canton, and co-captain Jodi Coyle and Jennifer Parviainen of Plymouth.

Sumpter to receive COPS grant

Wayne County Commissioner Bruce Patterson proposed a three-year COPS grant for Sumpter Township at a recent Board of Commissioners meeting.

"A three-year grant contract between the County of Wayne and the Department of Justice in the amount of $75,000 to provide community policing services (COPS FAST) in Sumpter Township," was Patterson's proposal, which was then unanimously approved by the board.

The grant will allow for reimbursement up to 75 percent of the cost of an entry level officer over a three-year period from March 1, 1995 to Feb. 28, 1998.

The first year, reimbursement is $30,000, second year is $25,000, and the third year is $20,000. Matching funds over the three year grant period is 29 percent of the projected actual cost.

Romulus' Margaret Soop selected as 'Best Cook'

By LORI GILLESPIE
MCN Staff Writer

"There is no one who can top her pie crust. She is over all an excellent cook," read the nomination sent in by Sara Ferrebee.

The "she" referred to in the note is Margaret Soop of Romulus. Ferrebee nominated her as "Best Cook on the Block."

"I love to bake," Soop stated. "I've been making fruit-cakes for 45 years. I like cooking too, especially around the holidays."

Soop learned to make her pie crust by watching her mother. She made her first pie crust when she was 15.

Soop will be 71 in a few weeks.

"My mom was a big baker. Years ago we used lard for the crust. I started using Crisco because there is too much fat in the lard," Soop stated. "My first pie crust turned out really good, I was suprised."

She does most of her baking for special occasions and around the holidays, and claims to have real good luck with cakes and cookies.

Soop is now passing her baking knowledge down to her niece, helping her whenever she needs it. "I've only got a son, but he can cook too," Soop said.

She describes her pie crust as being real flaky. "I don't do anything special to it. I even give out the recipe, but they all say it doesn't come out for them. I don't know why."

Soop's advice to pie makers everywhere, "Don't handle the dough anymore than you absolutely have to. If you handle it too much, it will be tough, not flaky."

Round Steak and Gravy
Take two or three pounds of round steak, cut into pieces.

Roll the steak in flour, salt and pepper mixture, and brown in skillet.

Place in small roasting pan. Make a thin gravy in skillet, and pour over steak.

Place sliced onions on top and cover.

Bake at 350 degrees for about two hours.

Coconut Cream Pie
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons corn starch
2-1/2 cups milk
3 eggs, separated

1 teaspoon vanilla
1 tablespoon butter
1-1/2 cups flaked coconut
Combine sugar, salt, and cornstarch. Stir in milk.
Cook over medium-low heat until slightly thickened. Combine a little of the mixture to beaten egg yolks. Return to hot mixture, and cook until thickened, about two minutes. Stir in vanilla, butter and coconut.

Beat egg whites with a 1/4 cup of sugar until stiffened for meringue, put in oven to brown.

Pie Crust
2 cups flour

3/4 cups Crisco
1 teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons cold water
Mix flour, crisco and salt until crumbly. Add water and mix. Roll out on floured board. Before adding filling, bake crust in 425 degree oven for 15 minutes.

For the name of a physician, or more information on the nearest Oakwood Healthcare Center, call 1-800-543-WELL.

Committed to your health.

When we say we screen our doctors, it's not a slogan and it's not just some routine examination, either. This is a procedure we take very seriously. After all, your health is at stake here. So, before any doctors become Blue Care Network doctors, before they ever examine one single patient, they must first survive a very detailed examination themselves.

Here's what it takes. First, all doctors (personal care physicians and specialists) are reviewed against very specific written criteria. (Quality of care is what we're measuring here.) In addition, an on-site inspection is conducted by specially trained staff and results are reviewed by Blue Care Network doctors in the area.

Patient satisfaction surveys are conducted by a professional, independent research company. Here, we ask patients to evaluate their doctor's technical skills as well as the basic level of service and care.

And, Blue Care Network works with its personal care physicians to ensure that quality standards are met.

Finally, Blue Care Network itself is reviewed for quality by a national industry watchdog association.

Oh, and after all these standards have been met, the doctors selected have the pleasure of going through this process all over again every two years for as long as they're with us.

Now, that is a tall order to fill. But if we're going to take the guesswork out of selecting a doctor, we should try our hardest to provide you with a sizable list of quality personal care physicians and specialists. It's as simple as that.

Shopping center opening sparks pride in Inkster community

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
MCN Managing Editor

Saturday was a great day for Inkster, and no one who attended the ribbon cutting of the 45,000-square-foot Inkster Town Center failed to be caught up in the "renaissance" spirit.

The ceremony was a gathering of a "mutual admiration society," with elected officials, civic leaders, developers and citizens all thanking each other for a job well done -- and sincerely believing that this event marked the beginning of a new spirit in Inkster.

"No longer will we have to go to Dearborn or Garden City to buy a tube of toothpaste," commented Inkster Mayor Edward Bivens Jr. "There is a renaissance in Inkster, and this is the first major step."

Bevins predicted more developments to spin off from the long-awaited shopping plaza on the corner of Inkster Road and Michigan Avenue.

In the invocation, the Rev. Isaac King of the Pentecostal Temple Church said, "Bless these proceedings. Let this be the beginning of a new day for our city."

He also warned residents to be wary of the dangers of drugs, crime and the decline of family life that threatens the community.

Sharika Bryson, an eighth grader at Robichaud High School, was awarded a $100 savings bond for selecting the name, Inkster Town Center.

U.S. Senator Carl Levin quipped that he could use Sharika to write campaign slogans for the next election.

"It is a treat to be here," Levin told the audience. "This shows what we can do as a community."

Terrance Harder, chairman of the Downtown Development Authority (DDA), said that by working together the community will continue to grow.

"We are a family. We are committed, and we are all in this together."

-Robert Penn

"I've got seven more acres up the street ready to go (for development), Harder said.

Robert Penn, president of Penn & Associates, called the opening of the new shopping center "just the beginning."

"We are a family. We are committed, and we are all in this together," said Penn. "I have a 90-plus unit apartment building that will be ready next spring. This is just the beginning."

Thomas Kessel, vice president and director, Western Wayne Regional Banking for NBD Bank, noted that the dream of a shopping center began some 30 years ago.

"The realization of that dream is a product of partnership between businesses and individuals."

Greeting from Gov. John Engler were brought to the event by Anne Mervenne, director of the Southwest Michigan office of the governor.

"This is not just a celebration of the opening of Inkster Town Center. It is a celebration of the city of Inkster," Mervenne said.

Frank Ross brought greetings and good wishes from Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara.

William A. Watch, president of First Commercial Realty and Development Company served as master of ceremonies for the ground breaking ceremony, and the Inkster High School Band, under the direction of Michael Brown, provided music for the celebration.

"This is a great new beginning. I look for a lot more to come," said Inkster council candidate Danny Williams.

"This is a great day -- one that we've been waiting for a long time," said former mayor Joseph Davis. "I wish some of those who have passed on could be here to see this dream realized."

Wayne County Commissioner Kay Beard called the shopping center "a dream come true."

"I moved here in 1953, and a year or two after that the stores on this corner were torn down. We've waiting all this time for a new development. Now we have the shopping center and the new Post Office and the new golf course coming," said Beard.

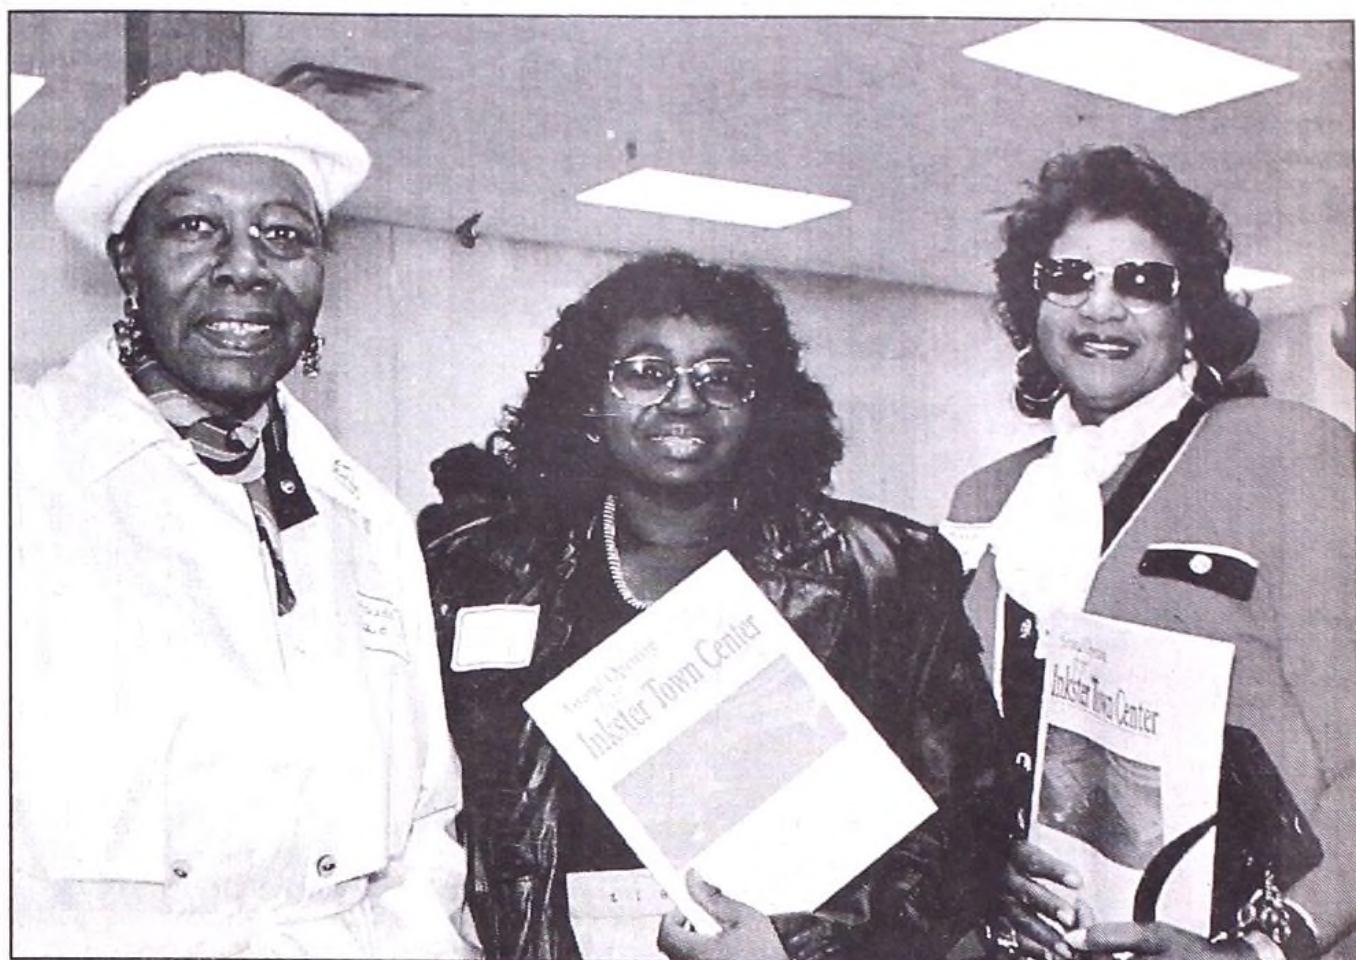

Inkster School Board President Beverly Johnson noted the challenge to the schools that was presented by several speech-makers during the ceremony.

"We are committed to making changes to improve education, particularly in our technical and vocational programs. We are implementing programs so that our young people will be prepared for the job market when they graduate," Johnson said. "We have a new superintendent, some new administrators and parents who are now working with us."

Also attending the ceremonies were the Inkster City Council and City Manager Margie Rose.

The $4 million project is a cooperative effort of First Commercial, Penn & Associates and the city of Inkster with financing by NBD Bank.

The retail tenants include Rite Aid Pharmacy, Blockbuster Video, Radio Shack, Subway, Dollar Daze, Dorsette Hair, Advance Sportswear, One Price, China King Restaurant and Galaxy Laundromat, all of which are expected to be open by Thanksgiving.

Among the crowd of people who packed a vacant store in the Inkster Town Center for the official opening ceremonies were Maude Reid (top), Inkster Good News writer, Bobbie Baskin and Addie Farwell. At the right, Inkster School Board President Beverly Johnson and Theola Jones, Inkster Good News writer, joined the buffet line for appetizers and beverages. Representatives of the Inkster and Westwood school districts, senior citizens, business people and a variety of citizens attended the shopping center opening, along with elected officials and their representatives from the city, county and state. Several members of the Michigan Community Newspaper staff were present to share the moment of pride with Inkster residents. MCN photo by Joan Dyer-Zinner

Ronna Romney confident of place on '96 ticket

By IVAN HELFMAN
MCN Staff Writer

Running for U.S. senator is getting to be a Romney thing. In 1970, Lenore Romney, wife of former Gov. George Romney, ran as an unsuccessful Republican candidate against Sen. Philip Hart, and her son, Mitt Romney, lost in his race against Sen. Edward Kennedy in Massachusetts.

In 1994, talk show host Ronna Romney — Lenore's former daughter-in-law — ran in the Republican senatorial primary against Spencer Abraham. She lost to the future senator by less than one percent.

Now, with her eye on the 1996 senate race, Ronna Romney surrendered her WJR microphone and became the first hopeful to file as a Republican candidate with the state's election commission.

"I can now collect money," she told a nonpartisan crowd of about 45 Belleville Rotarians at their Oct. 24 meeting.

The 52-year-old aspirant came at the invitation of Don Juchartz, WJR's "Garden Doctor," who plans to give equal time to incumbent Sen. Carl Levin and other candidates in the future.

Romney peppered her speech with stories about her family, including one about her son who she described as a "taker" before he changed his life as a Mormon missionary in the Philippines.

"We've become a nation of takers," she said, citing a list of group entitlements that many Americans embrace. "If we don't change, the country will implode."

And, as it turned out, that's what her candidacy is about.

Removing the entitlements and "giving people an opportunity to learn accountability and self-reliance — just like her son did in the Philippines.

"The number one thing we must do is pay our bills," she said. "Unless we put our financial house in order, we won't have any breathing space to tackle our problems."

The problems being a bloated government that levies too many taxes and uses "gestapo-like" measures to collect them.

"In 1950, one out of $50 of a family's income went to government," she said. "Now, one of four dollars goes there. In 20 years, it will increase to one out of three dollars because of self-perpetuating legislation."

To correct the problems, she said she would, if elected, shrink the federal government, support a flat tax, give the president a line-item veto, and work to increase public safety.

Regarding foreign affairs, she said she opposes sending American soldiers to Bosnia.

In an interview with Eyewitness, she said she would try to get rid of the US Department of Education and get behind Republican efforts to return welfare policy to the states to "encourage accountability and self-reliance."

She blamed Sen. Carl Levin's misjudgments for contributing to the current system's "reward of failure and punishment of success."

"I'm clearly the front runner," she said, citing polls that put her 27 percent above her nearest rival for the Republican nomination. "This time I have support from the party."

In 1994, Gov. John Engler's political machine — a 900-pound gorilla — fought with all its strength and money to barely beat Romney at the last minute.

"I didn't have the money to respond to their last-minute attack ads on television," she explained.

But this time, she's a player on the team.

"In 1982, I co-chaired the Dick Headlee campaign for governor with John Engler," she said. "Spencer Abraham was the poll taker. Two out of three have been elected to office. This year will be the hat trick."

Wayne County official to receive award

Wayne County Assistant County Executive Suzanne Hall has been selected as one of this year's YWCA Women of Achievement by the YWCA of Western Wayne County.

The YWCA honors women in several categories, including arts/communication, business/industry, professions, volunteer, young woman. Hall will be receiving the government/law award. A luncheon to honor the women chosen at noon Nov. 3 at the Fairlane Club in Dearborn.

"I am very pleased to receive this award from the YWCA," says Hall. "I am well aware of the fine work the Western Wayne office does for the community, which makes this award of even greater significance to me."

Hall, 39, has been in government service all of her working life. She began her career as a grants writer/coordinator in the late '70s in Romulus and later Southgate.

In 1982, she was hired by the city of Melvindale as their housing and community development director.

When Edward McNamara was first elected as Wayne County Executive in 1987, he recruited her to be part of his transition team. She served as the Wayne County Health and Community Services' deputy director from 1987 until September, 1994. As the current Wayne County's assistant county executive for administration, she is responsible for development of the Executive Branch reorganization plan, legislative policy development for federal, state and local government, implementation of the County ethics ordinance and reform of the County's central services.

Married with two children, she resides in Southgate where she is serving her sixth consecutive term as a Southgate city council member. For the past four years, she was council president.

Hall, who holds a master's degree in public administration from the University of Michigan, serves on several commissions including the United Way Community Services board and the Michigan Municipal League.

WEDDINGS

McClellan-Reid

Paula McClellan, daughter of the Rev. Donald (Mike) and Charlene McClellan, and Brad Reid were married on Sept. 2, 1995 at Brookhaven Wesleyan Church in Marion, Ind.

The bride wore a floor length off-white gown with a flowing train, button-down front veil and carried a bouquet of white roses accented with burgundy.

The groom, son of Dave and Nancy Reid of Marion, Ind., and his male attendants were attired in black tuxedos.

McClellan, pastor of the Romulus Wesleyan Church, officiated at the double-ring ceremony of his daughter that was highlighted with garland greenery, a unity candle and a double heart candelabra.

Music was provided by pianist-organist Suzanna McGraw, trumpeter Mick Manwell and vocalist Dale Munsell.

The maid of honor was Julie McClellan, sister of the bride, and her bridesmaids were Jaime Luczak, a friend of the bride, and Sheri Ailstock, sister of the groom.

The flower girl, Witney Ailstock, is a niece of the groom. She wore a dress of hunter green brocade, accented with off-white, and dropped petal roses down the aisle.

The best man was Nick Manwell, a friend of the groom. Groomsmen were Jeremy Rumsey, a friend of the groom, and Kelley Ailstock, brother-in-law of the groom. The ushers were Lucas and Adam Binkerd, cousins of the groom.

The ring-bearer was Derrick Ailstock, nephew of the groom, who carried the ring on a white pillow.

The bride's mother wore a hunter green mid-length dress with a short-sleeve and button down front.

The maid of honor wore a mid-length burgundy gown, accented with off-white (sewn by the the bride's aunt) and carrying a bouquet of white roses accented with burgundy. The groom's mother wore hunter green tea length dress with short sleeves. The couple honeymooned in Tennessee and now live in Marion, Ind.

Nissan offers prime quality

By JUSTIN WILCOX
MCN Automotive Writer

Economy, economy, economy. If you say it a lot really loud, people will begin to believe that it is a swear word. Economy is not a bad thing in a car, I want to get as far as I can on a tank of gas. Where economy is pushed to its threshold is when it is used to describe the build quality of a car.

Thus, I begin my review of the Nissan Sentra GLE. This car can be described as economical on fuel. It has an EPA rating of 28 mpg in the city and 37 mpg on the highway. It is also economical on ride feel and control. It is economical on sound deadening material in the cabin area. It is economical on ride feel and control. It is economical on the way it corners. And it is economical in the feeling of comfort given to the driver.

Nissan will dispute all of my claims, but trust me on this one. granted the car only costs $15,639. This price gives you power windows and locks, cruise control, air conditioning, dual air bags, sun roof, four door, automatic transmission and an AM/FM stereo with cassette. I know, I know, that is a lot of options for the money, but Nissan's competitors like the Geo Prizm, Chevrolet Cavalier, Saturn SC1 and the Dodge Neon all feel much more solid and perform like Formula 1 cars when compared to the Sentra.

The Sentra was easily disrupted on the interstate by passing cars and trucks. I got used to a constant swaying motion where I was constantly adjusting my position in my lane. What is ironic is that Nissan has seemed to score impressive sales records with its all-new Maxima and the Altima that has only been around for a few years. So, why no trickle-down innovations into the Sentra?

Maybe I am being too hard on the little car. Maybe I just missed the entire concept. I began to second guess myself until a little girl on her tricycle took off from the stop sign faster than I did.

I did find two things that did impress me about this little econo-box: the air conditioning was so good that probably could have frosted my face. The second thing was the impressive fuel economy even with the automatic transmission.

Nissan, I am sorry for slamming your car, but the competition is too strong in the econo-box race. At one time I remember one of the big automotive magazines noted the Nissan to its top 10 list. Simply amazing when you think about my review now. I am not questioning the reliability of the car, merely the amount of time and effort that went into designing what should have been an easy victory.

Maybe I am all wrong, maybe the Sentra is exactly what it used to be a few years ago.

The 1995 Nissan Sentra GLE offers power windows and locks, cruise control, air conditioning, dual air bags, sun roof, four door, automatic transmission and an AM/FM stereo with cassette. MCN Special Photo
